HEAD START

One of the rituals which seniors are a part of every year is the measuring for caps and gowns. It is a rather simple procedure and really doesn't take long. The magic in it is that it is another little reminder that we've finally made it and our high school days are numbered.

"NATIONAL" HOLIDAY

The schools were closed Monday and Tuesday, January 22 and 23, 1979 and are affectionately referred to as the "sewer days." No, this is not a new national holiday. This was an exclusive Palmyra holiday. A break in the sewer system caused all Palmyra area schools to close for two days so the system would be subjected to the least amount of strain possible while being repaired. The schools re-opened on Wednesday and P.H.S. resumed the exam schedule which had gotten underway the previous Friday.

FIRST RATE

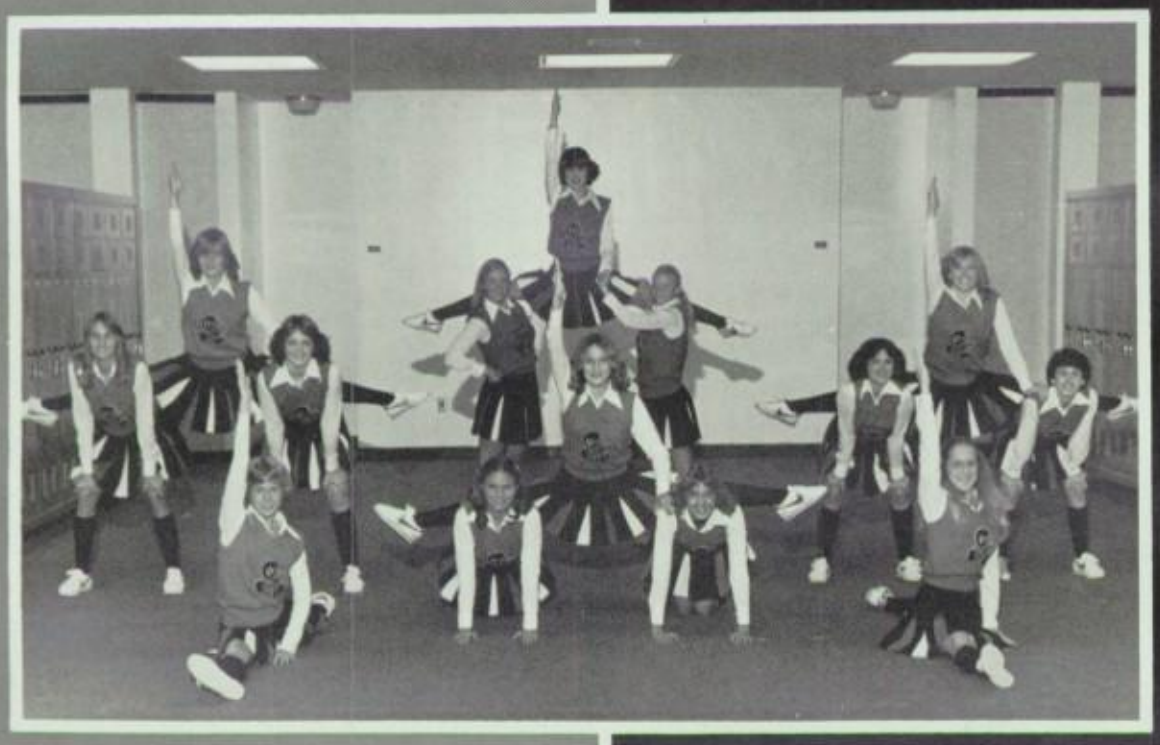
Dennis Walborn has a lot he can tell you about his diving career. He has a lot to be proud of too. The demanding and often times boring practice sessions finally paid off in the end. His slow start with a 3rd at C.V. could only lead to bigger and better things. He placed first in all the following meets, and went on to win the CAC Championship. He qualified for states in the District III Championship with a 3rd place. The pressure was really on at the state meet. Dennis took a respectable 14th. He will be training hard for next winter when we hope to see him as the next state champ.

At the 1979 Special Olympics, Palmyra H. S. sent student representatives who performed admirably, nearly making a clean victorious sweep.

In the track and field events Palmyra's Judy Kreider came home with three firsts, and Vicky Alcala was awarded a second and two thirds.

In the area of swimming Palmyra captured 19 ribbons. Judy Kreider again came home victorious with a first, second, and a fifth, while Dennis Kleinfelter brought home two seconds. Caroline Achey came in second in breast stroke and in backstroke and a third in freestyle. Tracy Clark won two first place ribbons and a second while Vicki Alcala triumphed with three first places.

All participants brought pride to their home school.



FOREVER CHAMPS

"We Are The Champions" has become the theme song of Palmyra's most winningest squad. The Cheerleaders have added three more trophies to their display case during this past year. At pocono sports camp this past summer, they were awarded from among 36 other squads the prestigeous Award of Excellence. In January our Champions easily took first place at the Cedar Crest Cheerleading competition. One more win was easily within their reach as they entered the Elizabethtown Competition in February. There was some apprehension at the realization that Hershey would be there, but in the end Palmyra was number 1 and Hershey was number 5. With all this experience the girls decided to enter a tri-state competition. After the elimination of 12 squads Palmyra was among the top five. It was obvious to any knowledgeable observer that we were number 1. Unfortunately, the judges felt otherwise. A squad that we had beaten at Elizabethtown had won. The girls were not dismayed; after all, how many more trophies will fit into that trophy case?

OFF TO THE DISTRICTS

Continuing their good yearly performances the Cougars Girls Basketball team again entered district playoffs. They went into the tournament with a 4-4 CAC record and a 13-12 overall record. They wiped out Solanco 57-25. In the second round they reluctantly submitted to Wyomissing 45-42. We hope to see them again next year, stronger than ever.

The Girls In The Office

The 1978-79 Business Club, was very active this year. They visited corporations and colleges including HACC and Central Penn Business School.

Not only did Business Club help widen the girls' horizons for the future, they also had several social functions. One of these functions was a hayride in the fall of the year held at Funck's Farm. Another function was the club's annual Christmas party.

This year's activities were fun and memorable for all the members.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS ABOUND

Assembly programs this year have run the gamut from the amazing to the bizarre, to the informative and have met with as varied a response from the student body.

Numbered among the bizarre would be the yearbook sale assembly, a first and the Drama Club slave day, a second. The informative included slide programs on swamplands and one on the Applachian Trail presented by John Marino and Bob Dudginski. Excerpts of plays and concerts rounded out the seasons offerings.

The most entertaining by far in the opinion of the students was the Freedom Jam assembly, hosted by the Jr. class.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y kept themselves busy this year. At Thanksgiving and Christmas they made food baskets for needy families. They also went caroling at the Alpine. At Easter they also made Easter Baskets for needy families.

During wrestling, they sold candy at the matches. On Daffodil Day they bought daffodils from the Cancer Society and took them to the Alpine.

The Twin Oaks had a "Rock and Roll-a-thon" in which the Tri-Hi-Y sponsored the residents.

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y this year lifted the spirits of hospitalized children by making booklets to keep them entertained. Over the Christmas holidays the group donated a turkey dinner to the needy. They collected donations for the Heart Association and sponsored the residents at the Twin Oaks Nursing Home during their Rock and Roll-A-Thon for the Heart Association. At Easter the group donated a ham dinner to a needy family and visited the Crippled Children in Elizabethtown.

senior TRI-HI-Y

Although a crisis was averted, it seems that P.H.S. students were affected. It seems some students did undergo severe facial and body distortions while a few sophomores did report severe aging and hair loss accompanied by an unusual urge to become a high school guidance counselor.

TMI SELLS SHIRTS

I didn't die at TMI!" "I'm a Nuke Survivor!" "H — No, I don't glow!" All these slogans can be found on T-shirts worn by thousands of "survivors" of the catastrophe that began at Three Mile Island Nuclear Generator Plant near Middletown (where's that?) on March 28, 1979. Evacuate, crippled reactor, hydrogen bubble, and millirem became household words during this time. The situation did become very serious though, even though T-shirt manufacturers made light of it all in retrospect. Palmyra H.S. reaped the most obvious benefit for its students, other than T-shirts, in the form of two days off while the experts were trying to determine the actual danger.

SPORTS TEAMS MAKE GOOD

This year was a special one for Palmyra in sports because this year we cannot only boast of a CAC Championship in boy's track, but also in girls. For the boys the clinching win came over arch-rival Milton Hershey, whom the edged by a score 76-74. Standouts Hollis Pencheff and Kathy and Karen Warlow managed to gualify for states, Hollis in the 330 intermediate hurdles and the Warlow twins in the two mile run.

Our school also made a good showing in the District Tennis Competition. Representing P.H.S. were Doug Bretherick and Tim Frazier in singles, Bretherick and Scott McDonald in doubles, and Bretherick and Jenny Allmon in mixed doubles. Everyone did well, with Jenny and Doug doing the best, losing a close match to the number one seeded pair. A win could have qualified them for states.

GUESS WHO DIDN'T COME TO SCHOOL?

Roses are red and good for looking, nobody's here- They're all out hooking."

-Anonymous

May 25, 1979 was another day for senior hook day. There isn't too much to write about . . . in fact there is absolutely nothing to write. Lunch lines were shorter, halls weren't as crowded, there wasn't much work to do, it was quieter etc. . Overall it wasn't a very exciting day. It rained. Five seniors showed up.

CAMPING OUT IN SPAIN

Just this past Easter a few PHS students, accompanied by Mr. Lentz and his wife, took a trip to sunny Spain. Unfortunately though, the weather wasn't all that sunny, but Tom Smith, Bob Hermanson, Bill Mintz, Jane Deichert, Sue Shay, Terry Clements, Leigh Young, Tammy Bentz, Rita Matthews, and Mr. Lentzis niece still somehow managed to have a good time. In fact, when asked if he would ever like to go back, Tom Smith eloquently replied, "Sure, why not?"

OTHER NOTES...

When the International Tournawas held on April 17, 1979, in Illinois, one of the participants was Palmyra's own wrestler extrordinaire, Junior Ron Stuart.

After a nine and a half bus trip from Clearfield, Pa., the teams arrived in Illinois and Ron went to work, wrestling in the 123 lb. "elite" weight class. He got off to a great start, winning his first two matches, a 19-11 decision over a former Ohio State Champion, and an 8-4 win over a state runner-up from Minnesota.

After that things started to go a little downhill, for in his third match Ron was pinned in the first period. His fourth and final match also saw Ron get pinned, this time in the second period by a champion wrestler from Ontario, Canada.

All in all, Ron made a great showing, while also gaining experience for next year when he plans to represent the Middle Atlantic Association again in the International Tournament.

On Saturday, March 7, 1979 Bloomsburg State College was the scene of the International Day Competition, a series of contests between schools in French, German, Spanish, Italian, and Latin. Nine of PHS's best French students sat through three grueling hours of competition along with students from thirty-five other schools. After breaking for lunch the students returned to the Carver Building for the awards presentation.

In the Vocabulary Competition, the five sophomores from Palmyra all took places: Steve Ballard, first; Ginger Sarabok, third; Linda Sutherland, fifth; Jane Fox, sixth; and Mark Daniels, tenth. Junior Greg Daniels copped a fourth prize in the Irregular Verb Competition, and Senior Katy McDonald's efforts were good enough for a third place in the Reading comprehension Competition.

The boys track team continued their winning ways by capturing the team championships at both the Ephrata and Elizabethtown relays. At Elizabethtown, the boys team scored 39 points and just edged out a tough Milton Hershey team for first place. At Ephrata, however, they dominated the action, scoring 104 points. Next year, the returning members are looking forward to sucessfully defending their titles.

Congragulations is extended to Palmyra's track participants in states. Senior Hollis Pencheff capped an outstanding year by winning the 330 intermediate hurdles in a blazing time of 37.16. He is first state champion to come out of Palmyra. Juniors Kathy and Karen Warlow also turned in terrfic performances. Kathy coming in second and her twin sister finishing fourteenth in the two mile. Once again, congragulations!

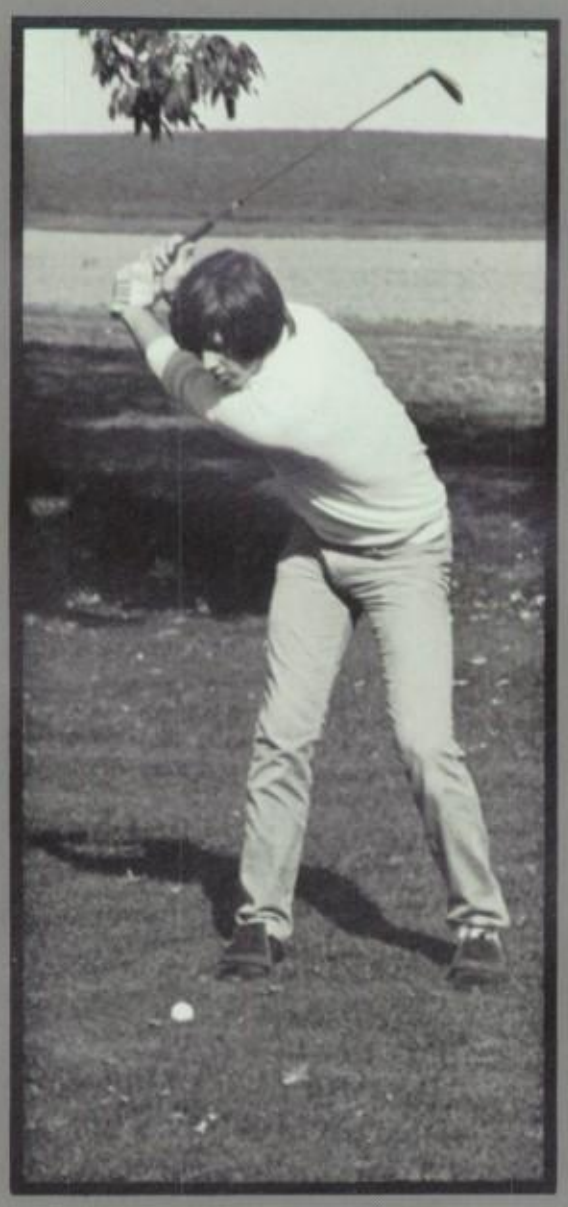
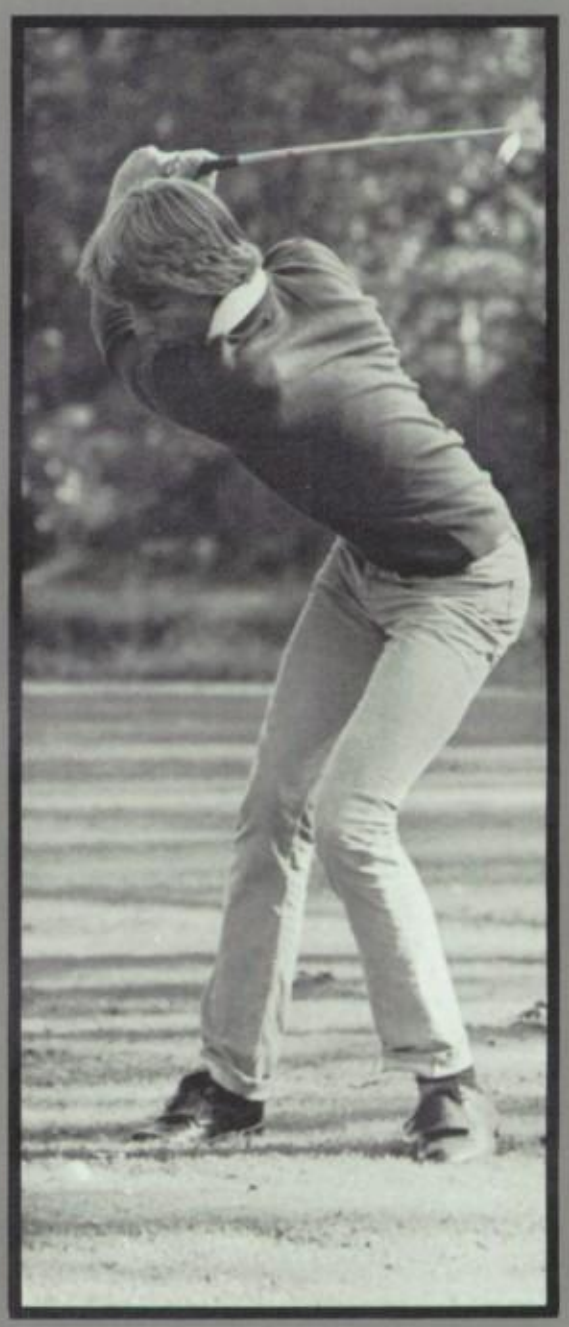
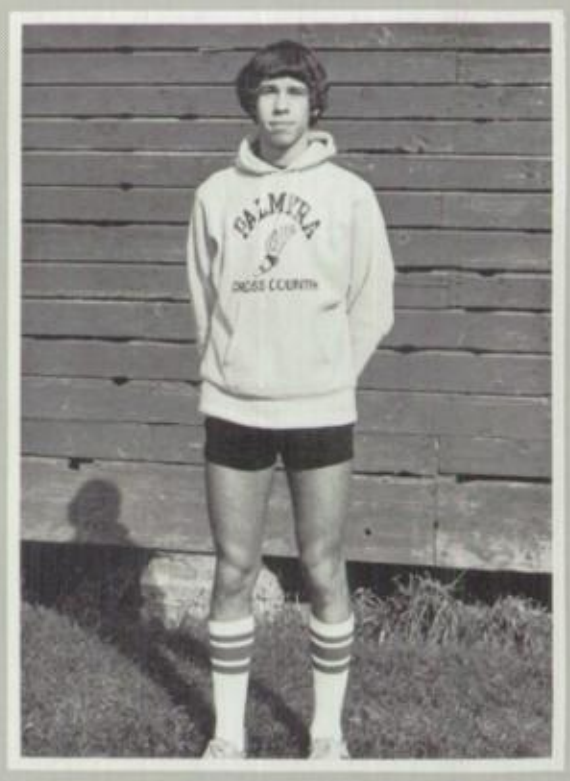
MASTERS 78

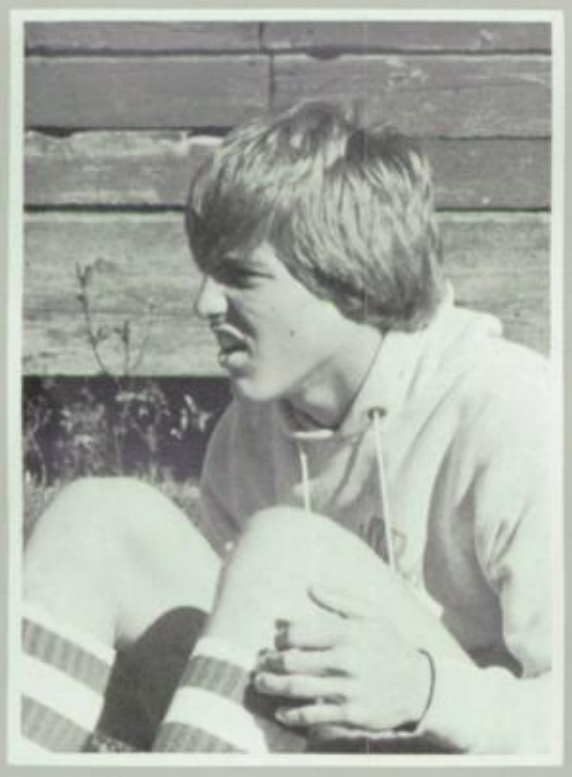
The 1978 golf team was a team of rebuilding. It was captained by Tom Schmidt, the only senior and returning letterman. Warren Lewis and Tom Schmidt shared the #1 position on the team throughout the season. The team ended the season with a 6 and 10 record. Tom Schmidt placed third in the CAC tournament, Brian Ruhl captured the Propane award and Warren Lewis was unanimously voted this years winner of the Golden Sledge Hammer.

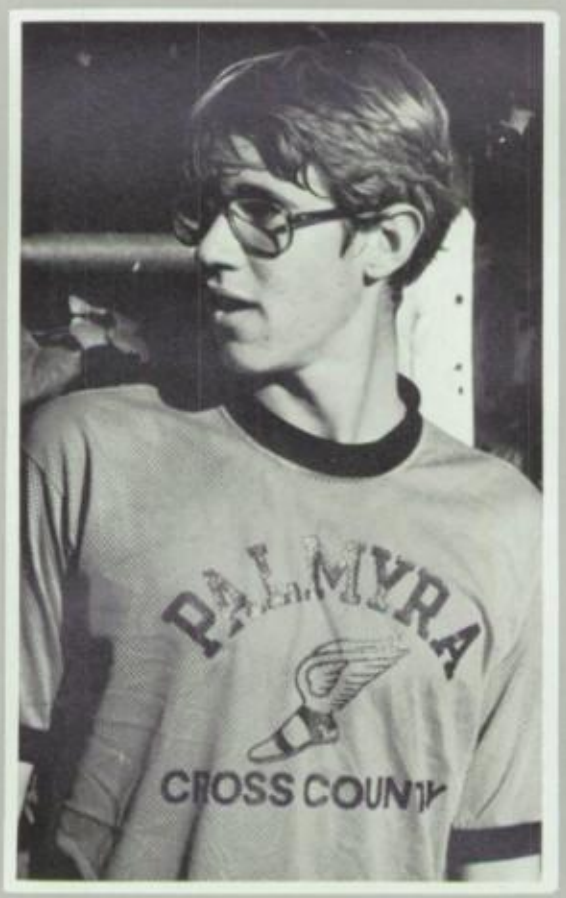






ROW 1: Mike Greene, Kathy Meyerhoffer, Terry Tyson, Lisa Papponnetti, Kathy Warlow, Karen Warlow, Frank Metunis, ROW 2: Skosh Jenckes, Ian Furhman, Bill Wagner, Mike Herbein, Tim Woolley, Joe O'Conner, Rod Campbell, Jay Ziegler, ROW 3: Coach Clair Drescher, Dave Weaver, Ed Smarsh, Dave Gillespie, Bob Dudginski, Brad Rhine, Don Shifflet, Missing from picture: Dean Webber





The Cross Country team finished with a very good year. They finished with a 9-1 season, the only loss coming at the hands of Milton Hershey. At the beginning of the year they were only rated fifth in the conference.

Something that made this season a little different from the previous seasons was the fact that they didn't have a home course at the beginning of the season. The problem was quickly solved by Jay Ziegler who volunteered the Ziegler farm as a location, but still no course. Jay put a lot of thought into it and finally mapped out a course that would become the second toughest course in the league, next only to Milton Hershey's. It took many hours of hard work to clear paths, cut trees and make bridges. The whole team, working as one, contributed to the cause, giving them all a sense of togetherness.

Another sign of drive and togetherness was exhibited by the girls, headed by the Warlow twins. Although their efforts did not result in a team score since they lacked the required number of runners for a team, they persisted and showed that running is and always will be a natural high.

The 1978 girls field hockey team got off to a rather grim looking season with only four of last years letter winners returning and only enough girls to make a varsity team. Under the leadership of coach Linda Raber, assisted by Sue Reese, with the help of co-captains Cindy College and Sheila Hall, the team pulled off a great season.

Pam Kreiser, Dawn Ferguson and Rose Viozzi held the defense together. Kelly Wagner, in her first year on the team was voted most improved player.

Despite some problems the team enjoyed a great season, on as well as off the field. The retiring seniors of 1978 would like to wish next years team the best of luck and much success.

DIFF'RENT STROKES

Row 1: Leslie George, Bonnie Evans, Beth Erb, Jenny Allmon, Jane Fox, Row 2: Coach, Mr. Bishop, Pam Lantzy, Kim Seaton, Michelle Midlick, Tracy Royer, Kim Butzer

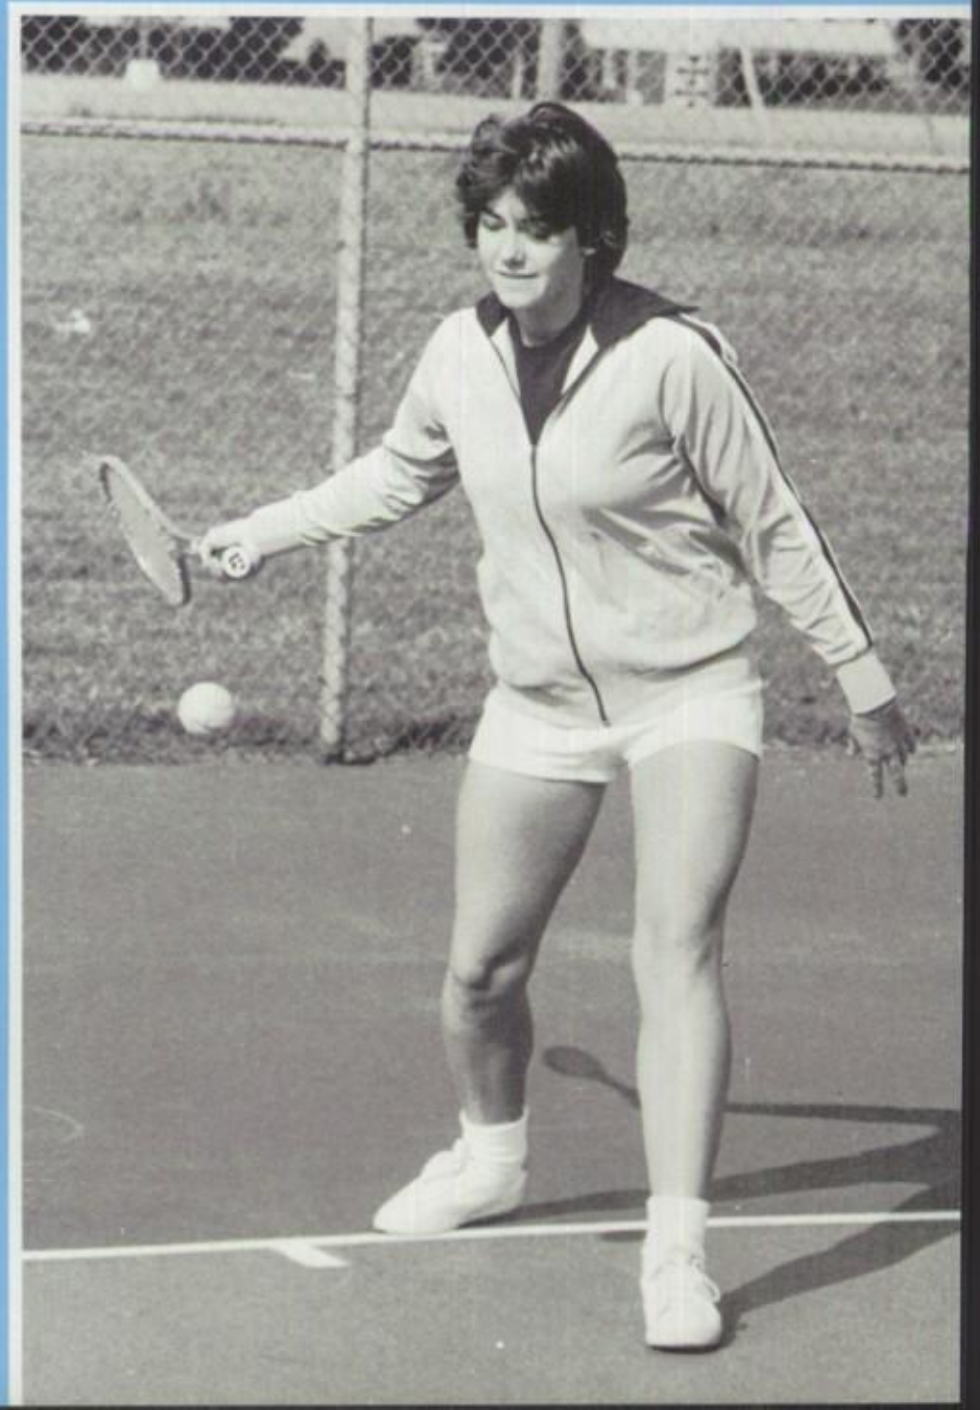
This year the girls tennis team ended with a 6-8 season, quite an improvement over last year's season.

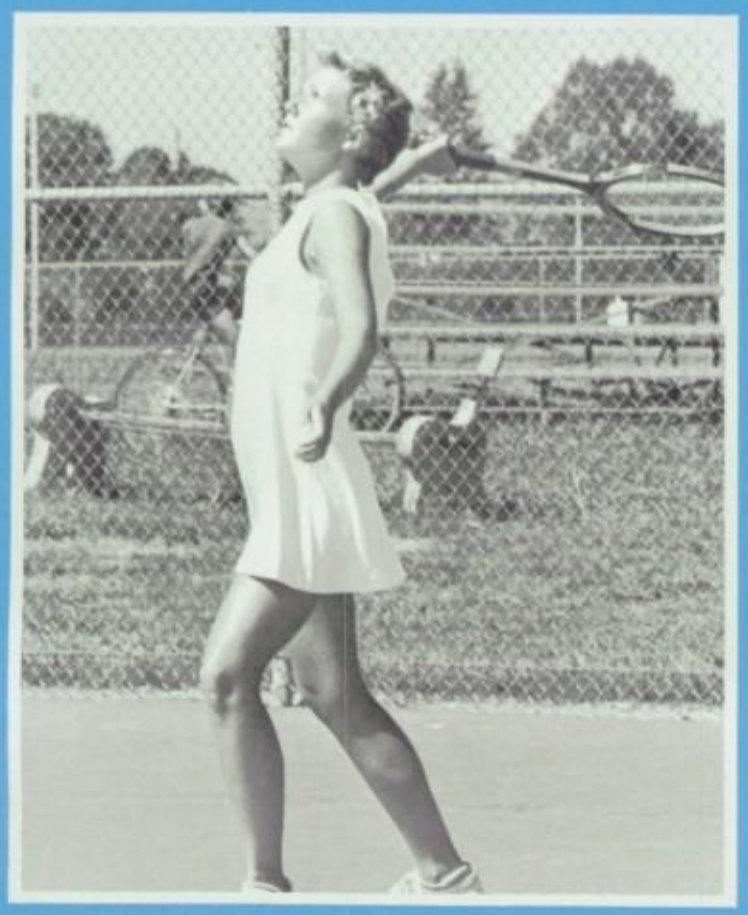
Three seniors and two sophomores ranked in the top five. Seniors Jenny Allmon, Leslie George, and Bonnie Evans played positions # 1, 2, and # 5 respectively. Jane Fox and Beth Erb, both sophomores, played positions #3 and #4.

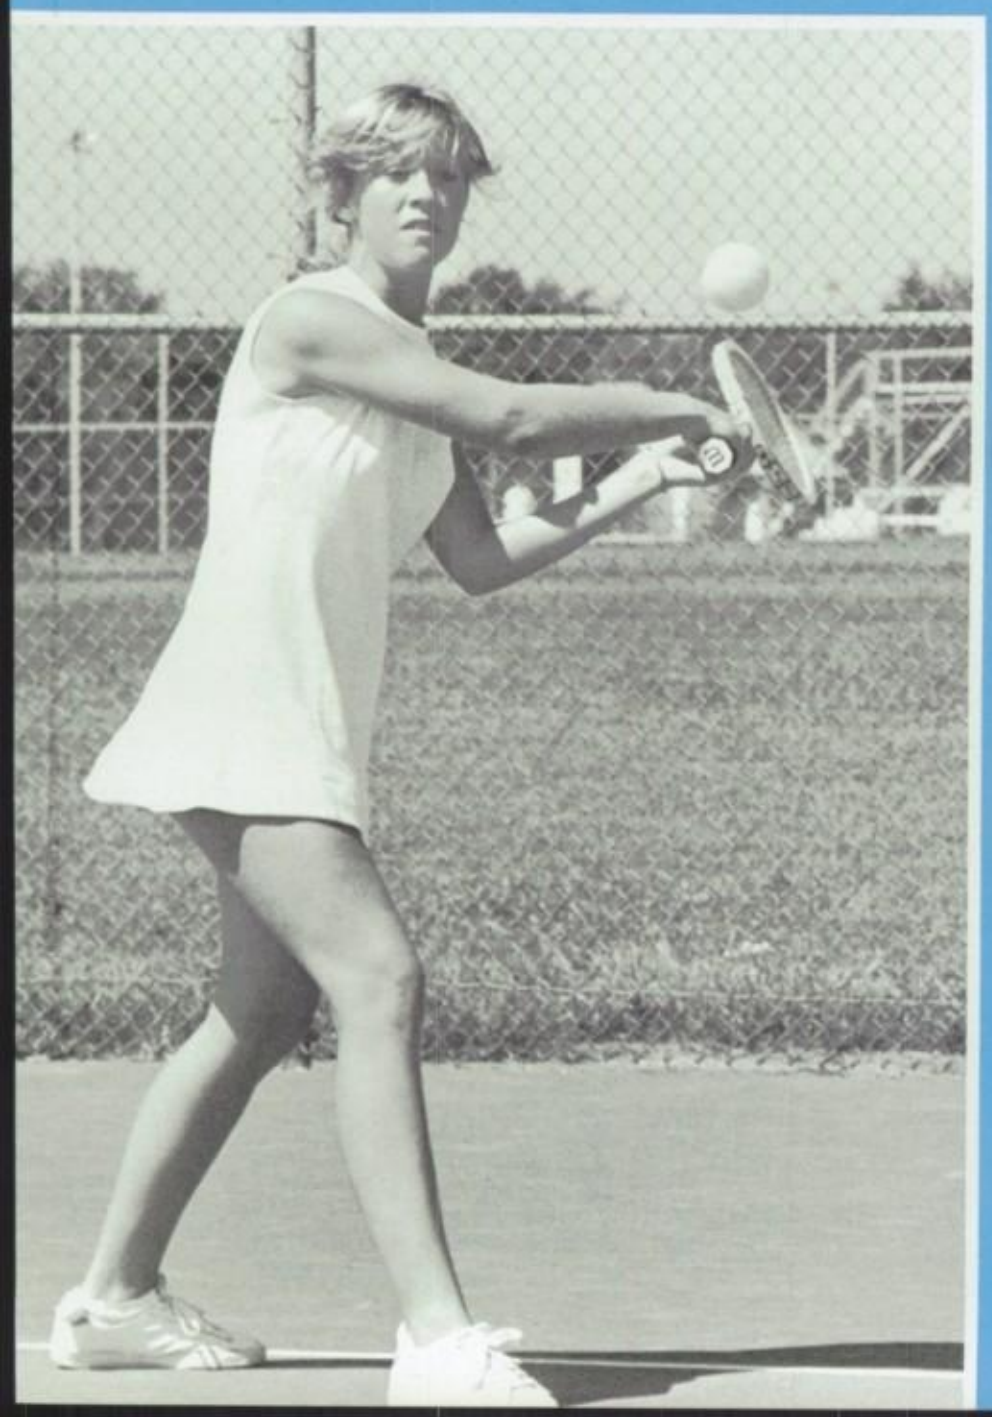
The remaining members of the team were Michelle Midlick and Kim Butzer, juniors, and freshman Tracy Royer, Amy Brenner, Kim Seaton and Pam Lantzy.

Next years' team looks promising with young experienced players coming up.

When asked to say something for the yearbook, Coach Bishop said, "I have nothing to say."







SAM'S ANGELS

"Winning means a lot, but sometimes just playing your best is good enough." . . . Roy Lutz

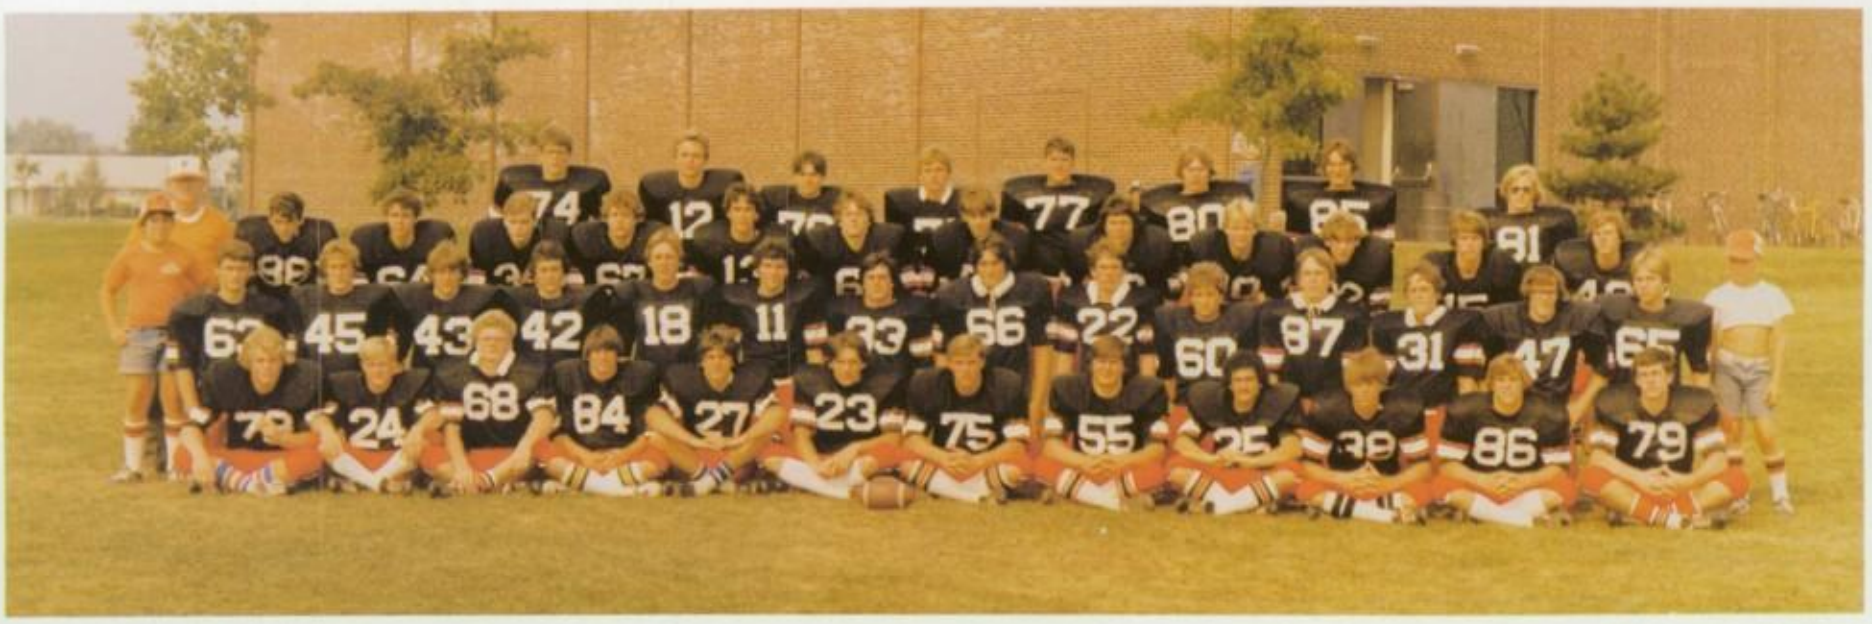
"Our team this year had the attitude that is great to be a part of. Everyone of the members were winners in every aspect of the word." . . . Greg Holsinger

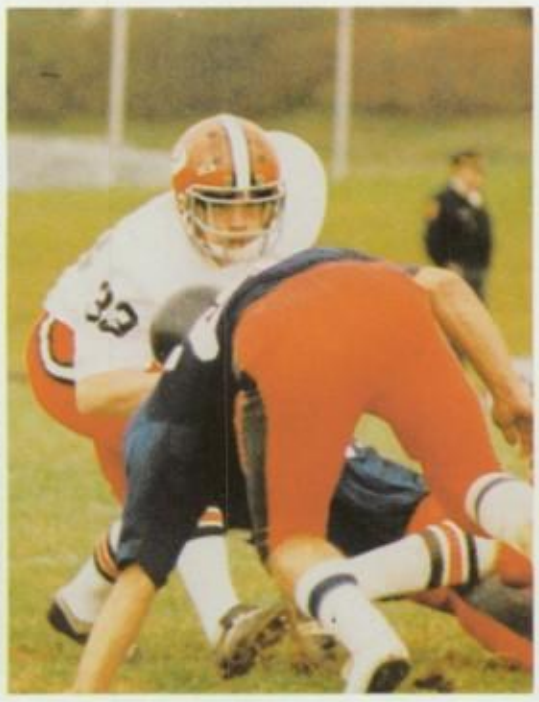
"I know you're there and I try a little harder." . . . Dave DuLac

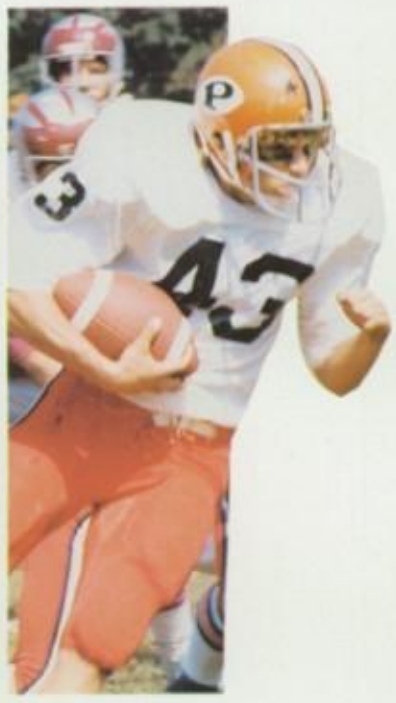
While you're on the field, "you don't really have time to think about anything, you have to react." . . . Bill Kristich

I enjoyed "the friendships you make, being part of the team." . . . Tim Eckert

Playing football "gives you a lot of self discipline." . . . Mike Casto







For the fifth consecutive year, the Palmyra High School Cheerleaders captured top honors at a summer cheerleading camp.

Included in the clinic were several different sessions every day such as tumbling, incorporation, and boogie class. A pom pom routine, hand routine and three new cheers per day were taught.

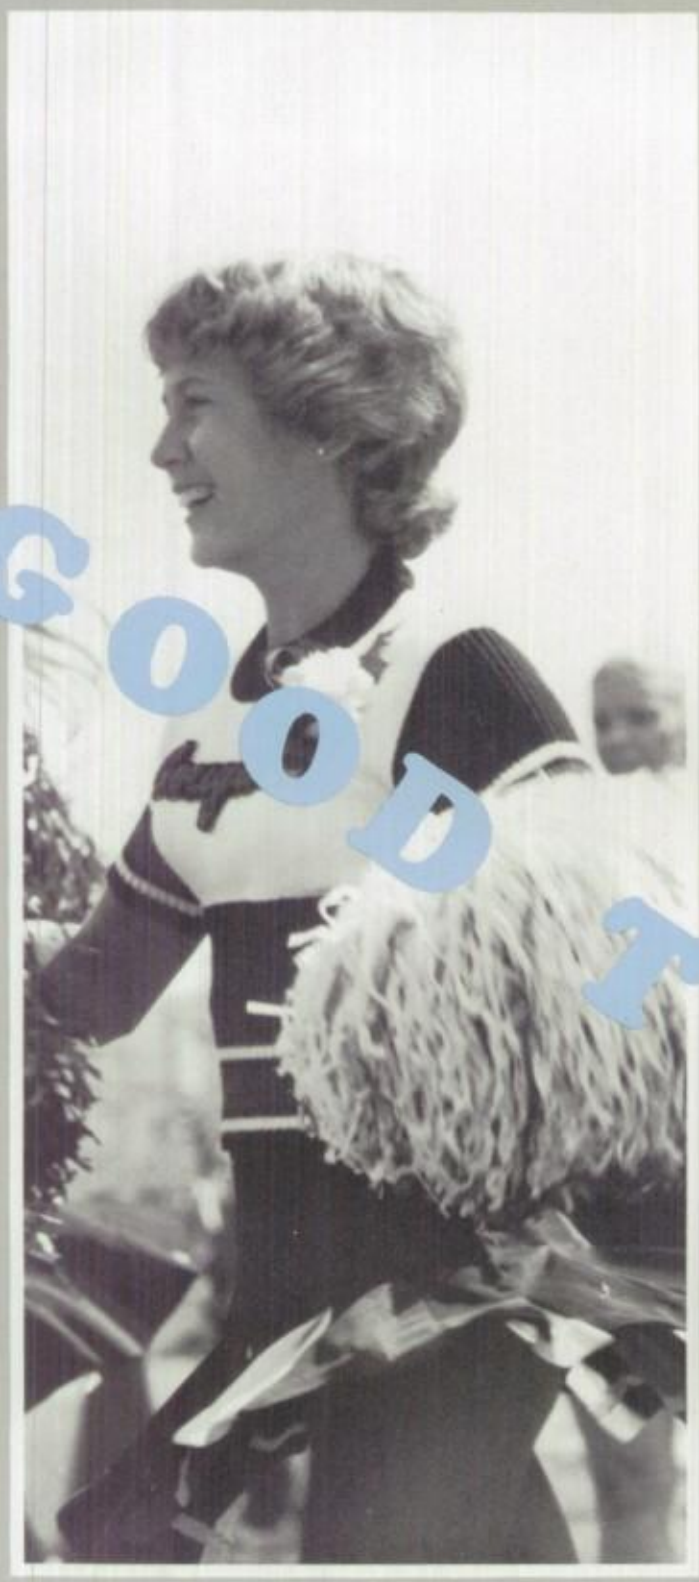
Palmyra received four superior ribbons which are the first place honors, and one excellent ribbon.

Palmyra was one of only two squads that received a spirit stick every night, an effort given for their daily efforts, and spirit.

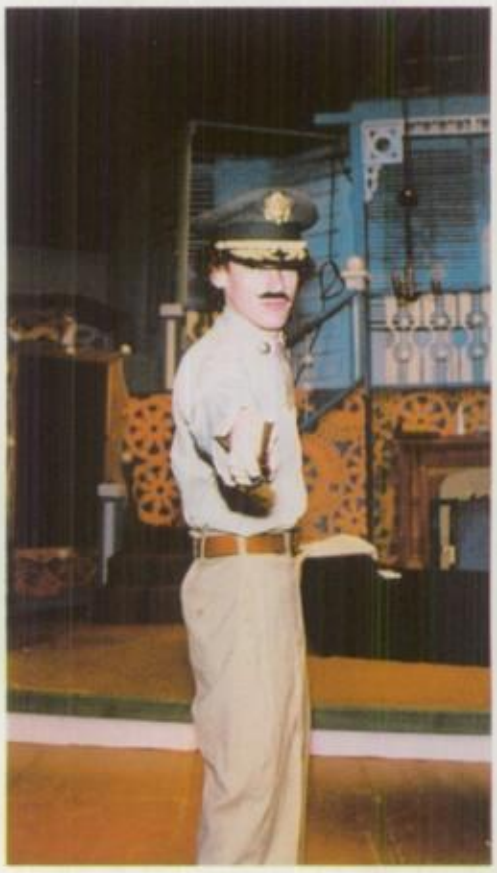
On Friday, for the fifth consecutive year, the girls in the orange and black were nominated for the most prestigious award of the NCA clinics, the award of excellence.

Another award, the spirit megaphone was also presented to the Palmyra squad for the squad with the most genuine spirit.

Members of the squad are Marie Ensminger, captain: Kerri Barbush, co-captain: Debbie Leis, Cindy Shoup, Stacie Umberger, Shelli Barbush, Kelly Eshelman, Kathy Leibfried, Lisa Paponetti, Penny Swartzbaugh, Karen Warlow, Steph Folger, Kathy Garrison, and Donna Seitz.



GOOD TIMES!



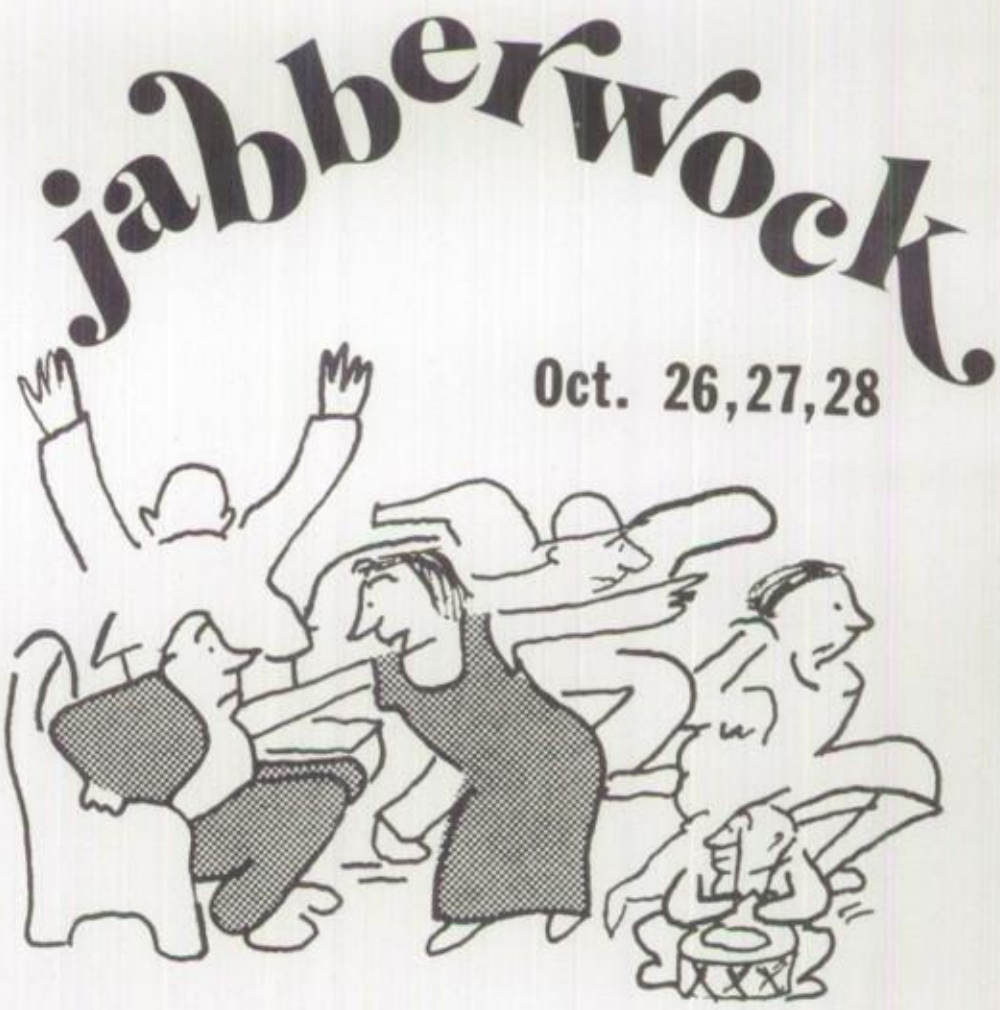
The 1978-79 season of the Palmyra High School's play production began with a comedy directed by Mrs. Aura Hill. The play "Jabberwock", is about young James Thurber, played by Steve Raynes. His mother, Mary Agnes, was played by Steff Grumbein. Tim Grumbein portrayed his younger brother and Jamie's older brother was played by Brian Phillips. His father was played by Tim Frazier. Jamie's extremely absent-minded grandfather was portrayed by Jeff Kearney.

The play takes place in the "ficticious city" of Columbus Ohio, around the time of the first World War. The story concerns itself with Jamie's troubles dealing with life, school, death, and his family.

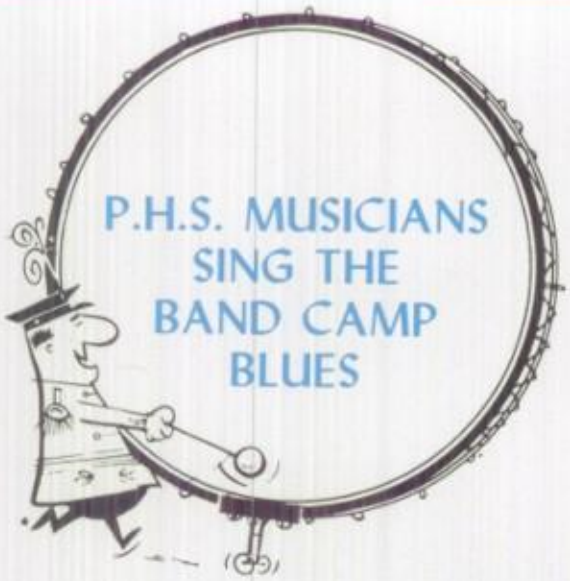
At the beginning of the play, Jamie meets a street corner con-man (played by Herb Logan) who turns out to be one of Jamie's few friends. He also experiences his first "love"; Georgianna Littlefield, an army brat (played by Karen Petrofes) during the play. Jamie also has problems in school, botany to be exact, his professor (Pete Fasolo) won't pass him until he see cells, which he can't because of his poor vision.

No one will ever forget Jamie's aunts, well played by Kim Charrot, Jonie Cooke, Rose Romeo, Ruth Knight, Sue Deimler and Marylou Craig. The household was kept by its four maids, all played by Jeanne Beckwith.

Other cast members were John Meridionale, Bob Bomgardner, Chuck Mock, Carlos Torres, Barb Beckwith and Brenda Lutz.



ATTENTION



For two weeks in mid-August
We rise at seven a.m.
And practice many hours
Just to hear, "Do it all again".

At times we feel like quitting,
Not caring how we sound;
Just going through the motions
With feet dragging on the ground.

No one really knows the reason
We go through this frustration,
And when it's football season
We have some hesitation.

We might not be a spirit team
And we can't win the C.A.C.
But we're more than just a band
Who cheers the teams to victory.

We take our "sport" seriously
And at all times give our best
But that doesn't stop more practice
Which continues with some protest.

The thing that keeps us going
It's not hard to understand
When people like our music
As we march together as a band.

So when we're at competition
And the cheering is for us
All the pain from summer practice
Is left back on the bus.

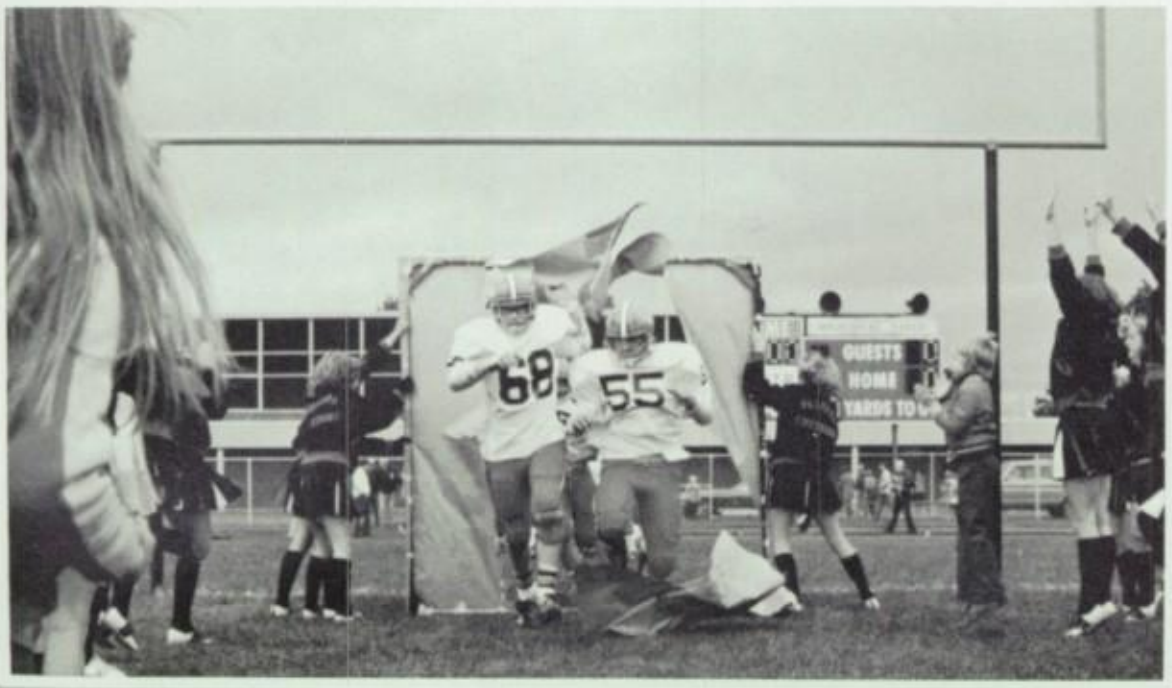
THE BIG EVENT

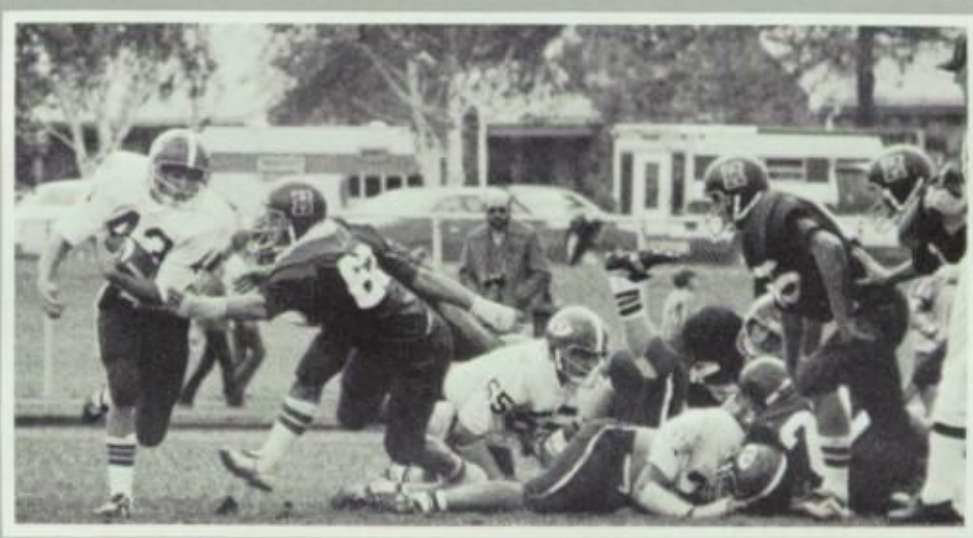
Award winning sophomore float.

1977 Homecoming Queen Lois Boyer and escort.

Second place junior float

Third place senior float





Homecoming Day, October 14, dawned dark and cloudy, following the example of the past few years. Fortunately though, the rain stopped before the parade began and all continued according to schedule.

However, all did not go well for the Cougars that afternoon, as shown by the final score, Hershey : 10, Palmyra : 0. The Trojans' victory did nothing to enliven the atmosphere, but the Cougars had the rest of the Homecoming activities to look forward to.

"Reminiscing" was the chosen theme for this year. The judges awarded the Sophomore float, depicting a school room, the winner. Mr. Watts presented a plaque to the Sophomore class president during half-time. The Junior float took second place.

A gold and orange world of dim light and shadow set the mood for this year's Homecoming Dance.

The election of a queen went on as usual-voted by the Senior class. However, this year there were no runners-up. All nine girls were members of the court.

Since there were no runners-up it was decided that the announcing of the queen would be different. Each girl received one rose wrapped in paper. The girl who got the white rose was queen.

As the crowd waited for the girls to finish opening their "packages", the spotlight shone on a surprised and slightly stunned Jennifer Allmon holding the white rose.

sounds of spring

"Sounds of Spring" was presented in the high school auditorium on Sunday, April 29 by the P.H.S. Concert Band. The concert was highlighted by a guest trombone soloist, Mr. William Grove.

Other highlights of the afternoon performance included the presentation of awards. Jenny Allmon was presented with the John Phillip Sousa Award by Mr. Randall Blouch, a member of the Optimist Club. This is the elventh year that this award has been given to the outstanding senior band member. Chuck Mock was presented the spark plug award by director, Bruce Weaver. All seniors received varsity letters.

"The years of hard work and practice was all worth it."

Say it with MUSIC

"I love being part of the band."

"I liked the feeling of pride when we walked on to the field."

"I will always remember the trips, winning in competition and, of course, early morning practices."

BAND

"I have enjoyed every minute and I will miss it very much."

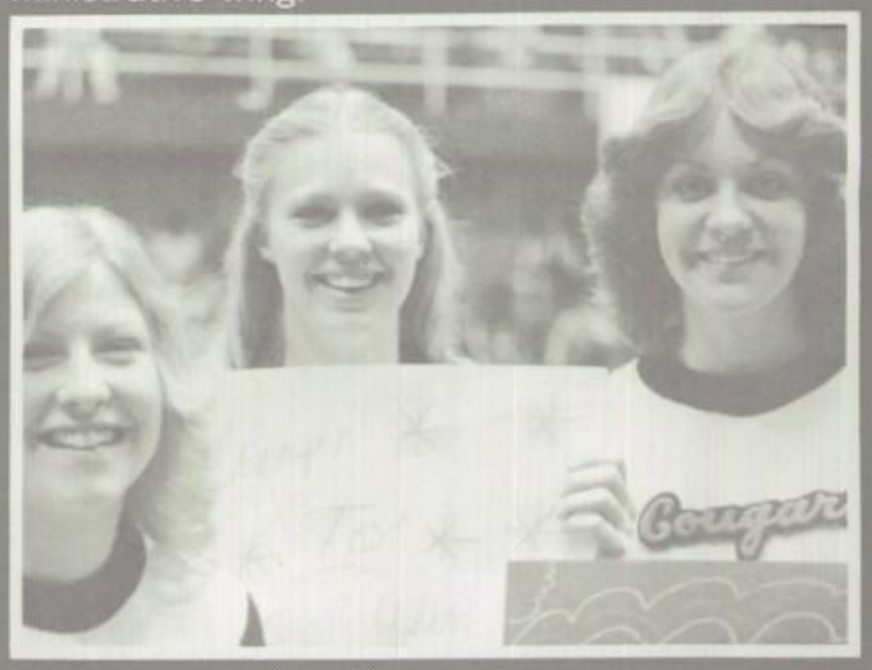
WEEKEND UPDATE

Jane: Bill, you overbearing, obnoxious, bad-breathed megalomaniac! Bill: Jane, you ignorant ——!

Jenny Allmon, Palmyra High School's Homecoming Queen, underwent surgery this past year to have her hand removed from her nose. Jenny was born with the defect which she claims ruined her social life. "I find it extremely difficult to kiss with my hand in front of my mouth," she said. Allmon is currently suing her parents' chromosomes, whom she claims are to blame for her defect.

A flying saucer was sighted over PHS on Tuesday, February 6, 1979. The entire Palmyra Police Squad was called to the school where the Palmyra Chief of Police ordered a full search of all lockers in the building in case any of the students were harboring Martians. None were discovered; however, an ounce of cocaine was found in the administrative wing.

Well, it has just been discovered by Weekend Update that the high level of radiation caused by the Three Mile Island accident did affect some people. Seen here is Karen Petrofes, a senior at Palmyra High. Karen is the only radiation mutant in Palmyra. When Karen mutated, she grew a strawberry lip and a feather duster out of her mouth. Karen commented, "Everyone kept threatening to give me a fat lip any way, and I really like the feather duster. After I graduate, I have a job all lined up in a circus as a sideshow freak."



It has just been disclosed that Larry, Moe, and Curly, the famous Three Stooges, have recently undergone successful sex change operations. Larry, Moe and Curly have changed their names to Cindy, Marie and Debbie and are presently posing as Palmyra High School Cheerleaders.

Reknowned bass-nose player Bruce Weaver gave a benefit concert in the Palmyra High School Auditorium. Weaver is the only living bass-nose player in the world who can play "Freebird" backwards at 78.

Mike Boyer, No. 55 of the PHS Football Squad, has just won the title role in the new remake of "King Kong". Said Boyer, "Uhhh . . . grunt . . . Ahh! . . . He then picked up Drum Majorette Fay May and placed her on the top of the flagpole. May could not be reached for comment.

Hollis Pencheff, a senior at PHS, was squashed to death in the high school gymnasium by a killer basketball. Hollis' last words were, "*!!#!

It has been disclosed recently that Carlos Torres knows how to count to five. Seen here is Torres getting help from his fingers.

Well, it's good to know not every story has a sad ending. Shown here is a PHS student whose hand was swallowed by a land shark masquerading as a toilet. Fortunately, the toilet overflowed and the student's hand was washed up into the bowl.

Shown here is an unknown PHS student being swallowed by the High School swimming pool. The pool was arrested and is currently being held under house arrest.

Tom Schmidt, today captured PHS's annual microphone eating contest for the third year in a row. Unfortunately, Schmidt was unavailable for comment.

Once again, another winner in Dolly Parton look-alike contest. This year's winner, Ed Cardimona, is shown here pointing out the similarities.

Well, that's the news for tonight. Good night, and have a pleasant Yearbook.

The Girls Varsity Basketball team, with their new head coach Mr. Robert Burris, assisted by Mrs. Katherine Stamen, wound up their season with an even 8-8 CAC record. The seniors, having never been previously coached by Mr. Burris, found it difficult at times to adjust to his philosophy. As we took our share of ups and downs, we can all look back at the memorable times.

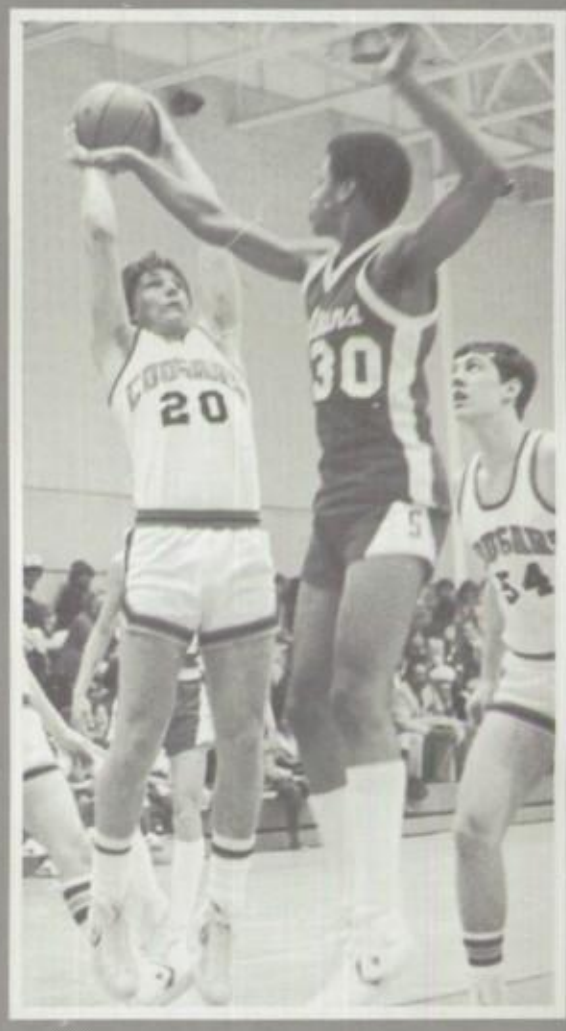
A YEAR OF SURPRISES

At the start of the 78-79 campaign, local sportswriters predicted, as they have in the past, the Cougars would finish, as they have in the past, near the bottom of the CAC standings. Well, by the end of the season the sportswriters were not proven wrong as Palmyra, 5-13 and 8-16 overall, did indeed finish below .500 and far out of reach of the title. However, a few of these behind-the-desk coaches came away from their typewriters with eyebrows raised, for this year was different. Palmyra was competitive, and for the matter of a few points at the right times could have easily reversed their record.

In the first half of the season, basketball powers such as Cumberland Valley, Hershey, and Lower Dauphin narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of the Cougars. During the Christmas break, the team entered the Northern Lebanon Tournament and once again made it to the finals. However, this time they lost to a scrappy Annville team. One of the highlights of the second half was the 96-54 drubbing of Red Land, in which the Cougars broke the single game scoring record that had previously stood for over a decade.

Seniors Doug Bretherick, Tom Becker and Tim Eckert, and Junior Greg Holsinger were consistent starters, but often the starting lineup was shuffled around with other players such as Tim Brown, Hollis Pencheff, and Doug Geiger getting the nod. For Sophomores Bob Krotec and Tim Shuey, hard work during the summer paid off, as both saw considerable playing time with Krotec also starting regularly.



The J.V. team's record, 5-17, also left a lot to be desired, and sometimes it seemed that opposing teams feared Coach Imboden's bench-kicking boots more than facing the Cougars. However, like the varsity, the j.v.'s were prone to one bad quarter game in which they either lost their lead or fell further behind. Nonetheless, everyone contributed to the team's efforts and hopefully there will be many players moving up to varsity next year.

The agony of victory shows on Kristi Hetrick.

This year's girls' swim team compiled a 7-4 overall record and were 3-2 in the CAC, earning them a second place tied with Mechanicsburg and Hershey for the second year in a row.

The start of the season found the girls facing a new coach and many grueling practices throughout the season. Practices consisted a minimum of 3000 yds. and a maximum of 6000 yds.

They shared both happy and frustrating moments during the season. For the first time they defeated arch-rival Hershey; and while team efforts failed they fell to Mechanicsburg to end the CAC season.

Much credit must be given to the three divers: Kelly Bain, Steph Folger, and Brenda Firestone for sweeping their event almost every meet.

This was the initial year for the CAC Conference Meet and the team sent nine members. Karla Meyer did an outstanding job, capturing first place in the 200 and 500 freestyle.

The girls are looking forward to another good season next year and have already set a few goals, both team and individual.

The 78-79 swim team record was 2-2 in the CAC, 5-5 overall. The only meet that was cancelled was the Cedar Crest meet (a casualty of "sewer days" see page ten).

The team consisted of fifteen swimmers. In the beginning there were about twenty to twenty-five members. Practice consisted of a minimum of two thousand four hundred yards (ninety-six laps) to a maximum of six thousand yards (two hundred and forty laps). Practices were divided into two catagories: 1) 100% quality swim 2) pulling, kicking, and hypnotic breathing. The quality swims were used to develop aerobic, the pulling practice was used to develop muscle.

This year Dennis Walborn was the only person from the team to represent Palmyra in district competition. Jeff Brownsweiger qualified to go to districts but decided to drop out.

The seniors this year were: Jake Ely, Jeff Campbell, Bob Dudginski, and Craig Rudy. The 78-79 season was the first time that Bob Dudginski swam competitively.

DIARY OF A WRESTLER

Dear Diary,

Well, today was the last day of wrestling season and I had to feel bad about it I guess. The last match was a successful one at Annville. We really killed them. I felt good about the team this year. We had set our goals at the beginning of the year, and we tried our best to live up to our expectations. We had hoped for a better record this year than ever in the high school, but I watched in horror as the Milton Hershey Spartans took a close match from us, 23-22. But even after this we didn't give up. Our pride took a bit of a blow, but we returned to blow away the rest of the teams we faced.

At times you had to stop and wonder if it was really worth it. It was a hard season for me, but as I look back at it now . . . it was worth every bit of effort I gave the team. At the beginning of the year the workout left your muscles sore for days. The workouts became easier and the moves came to you after awhile. They became almost spontaneous for some kids. As the workouts became easier, they became harder in a sense as more and more agilities were added. Weights were lifted; more agilities and live wrestling were all part of our trainings.

Some of the toughest kids on the team actually cried when they lost. There was that much pride for the team, that they felt they had let the team down. I know, I lost a couple times myself.

Another year of this??? you better believe it! Why? It is the want to be the part of a winning team, but it is also the want to be part of a team who has the pride, the will, the skill, and the overall superiority of the people on the wrestling team. To be part of their record. To be able to say, "Hey, I did this when I was in school., and they were the greatest days of my life. Maybe I didn't always win, but I always was a winner . . . in the true sense of the word."

DON'T DRINK THE WATER

Cast A (On left) Cast B (On right)

Walter Hollander/ Ed Cardimona	Chuck Mock
Marion Hollander/ Rosanne Romeo	Kim Charrot
Susan Hollander/ Ruth Knight	Karen Kelly
Axel Magee/ Steve Raynes	Brian Phillips
Father Drobney/ Carlos Torres	Pete Fasolo

Rounding off the casts were Tim Frazier and Steve Wise alternating as Kilroy, and Carlos Torres (when he wasn't Father Drobney) and Chuck Mock (when he wasn't Walter) as the chef. Others were Sam Figueroa as Krojack, Jack Frehafer as Mr. Burns, Dave Figueroa as the Sultan of Bashir, and Karen Petrofes, Laura Talamonti, and Candy Rhoades as the Sultan's wives. The Countess Bordoni was portrayed by Brenda DeHart, with Tim Grumbein as Yanis Kasnar.

On Feb. 8, 9, 10 the PHS Players presented the Woody Allen comedy "Don't Drink the Water." The play centers around Walter Hollander, a caterer, and his wife, Marion, and daughter, Susan, who are vacationing in Europe. The play begins as the three Hollanders tear into an American Embassy somewhere behind the Iron Curtain. The embassy is being run by Axel Magee, the bungler, in the absence of his father, the Ambassador. The Hollanders are seeking asylum because Walter, a shutterbug, accidentally took pictures of missile installations. They are trailed by Krojack and his henchmen, and must stay in the embassy or die. How long must they stay? Well . . . uh . . . there's this neurotic priest that's been living there for . . . six years.

Since the Hollanders are forced to stay, they busy themselves in various ways. Marion cleans the embassy four times a day, Walter writes four letters a day to their son, Seth, and Susan falls in love with Axel. Meanwhile, Drobney, the paranoid priest, drives Walter crazy with his magic tricks.

After several disastrous attempts at escape, the Hollanders finally get back to New Jersey, but not before two hours of hilarity have passed!

A miracle presented itself in the form of the Palmyra area High School Christmas Choral Concert on December 17, 1978, in the school auditorium.The experienced Bruce Weaver directed the choruses with great success. The traditional Christmas lyrics moved all who listened into the festive mood of the holidays waiting. Halfway through the show, the tempo was picked up as the new sounds of "Steppin, Out" were heard. The group presented the modern sounds of Christmas with selections like: "Christmas Calypso" and "Carol of the Bells." There was an added treat this year when Sam Figueroa gave a piano solo; his own version of "Silent Night."

As the audience moved on with their own lives, they were enriched with the spirit of Christmas, thanks to the proven talents at Palmyra Senior High School.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK

The life of a Drama Club member was highlighted this year with the extremely successful Slave Day, with special thanks to Mike Casto and Maria Carullo. A Slave Day dance was held that Friday evening proving to be another club success. Under the direction of its officers Rose Romeo and Jeff Campbell the club held its famous bake-sales and other fund raising ventures. Though the activities of each Drama Club member were varied, there was the same thought in the back of each member's mind. All looked forward to those fantastic trips to the Big Apple.

New York City offered many new delights this year. There was the charming Annie, the remarkable The Wiz, the haunting Deathtrap and Sweeney Todd.

When it comes to Drama the club agrees with Neil Simon's new play, They're Playing Our Song.

The assistant editor is Maria Carullo. Without her there would probably be no newspaper. Then there is Julie Dixon. Enough said. There is Kim Charrot. Without her there wouldn't be any splicing to be done. Karen Petrofes is another staffer. Without her there wouldn't be any erotic love letters to read. Carlos Torres Carlos Torres! Without him there would be no "Car Stereo of the Month" articles. Then there is Dona Flight and Sherri Barresi. Two staffers as different as night and day, when Sherri is awake. Finally there is Tom Becker and his column "Tom Becker's Sport Shorts," original no? The Newtimes' staff has shocked and offended many readers throughout the year. Their newspaper was enlightening, too. The NEWTIMES will never be the same!

TENNIS

The Cougar netmen did not quite fulfill their wishes for a more than successful 1978-79 season. Their record was respectable, but they lacked a few singles wins each match that would have improved their record and made them real contenders.

Senior and number one player Doug Bretherick turned out the year's best performance, losing just once in the CAC. He is sure to be seeded in both the CAC tournament and Districts this year. Junior Scott MacDonald, who played at the number four spot, also had a winning record. Rounding out the rest of the top five is number two, Senior Tim Frazier; number three, Junior Herb Logan; and number five, Senior Dick Shearer.

Next year holds promise, as two returning varsity players and a number of sophomores and freshmen attempt to win the title.

GIRLS HAVING ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL SEASON

It looks as if the P.H.S. girls track team is well on their way to their second straight CAC title. Although they are only midway through the season, their record is a perfect 5-0.

Reasons for this can be seen by the expertise of many of the girls. Quite a few have set new school records this year and others have qualified for districts. Those setting new records include: Robyn Eckert, shot, 36'6''; Cindy College, javelin, 115'10'', and hurdles, 16.7 seconds; Penny Swartzbaugh, 440, 65.3 seconds, and the 2 mile realy team of Joanne Jordon, Joan Bauman, Karen Warlow, and Kathy Warlow, in a time of 10.22.0. Those qualifying for districts include: Kristin Lichtenwalner, discus; Robyn Eckert, shot and discus; Cindy College, javelin; Karen Warlow, 2 mile; and Kathy Warlow, 2 mile and 1 mile.

This year's track team consisted of approximately 46 boys, many of them are sophmores, which means they will be back again next year.

Some of the team's strengths as of are in sprinting Senior Dave Dulac, the distance races Senior Ed Smarsh, Junior Jay Ziegler and sophmores Dave Weaver and Joe O'Conner and in the 440 Senior Don Shifflet. In the field events Senior Eric Swartzbaugh in the high jump, Senior Tom Spangler and Juniors Dale Krieder and Scott Brown in the long jump and triple jump. In the pole vault Senior Mike Casto leads this group of individuals. In the shot put is sophmore Mike Gehart, in the discus it is Senior Tim Shirey and Junior Tim Brown. Throwing the javelin this year is Tim Eckert.

This year was another heartbreaking season for the P.H.S. baseball team. The season was highlighted by a lot of good games, but close defeats. Their overall record was 4-12-1, and their CAC record was 3-10. The start of the season brought high hopes, with the team having seven returning starters. The coaching staff had two new faces this year with Mr. Bicksler as head coach and Mr. Ressler as his assistant. The seniors of the team wish next years team good luck.

BAGGY PANTS & THE TEAM

Co-captain D. Ferguson

The girls' varsity softball team consisted of seventeen members. Captains, D. Ferguson and D. Shearer, were chosen shortly before the season began.

Due to the Three Mile island crisis and inclement weather several of their games had to be rescheduled. A high point of the season was the Hershey game when Palmyra won by a score of 5-4.

J.V. SOFTBALL TEAM HAS SHORTEST SEASON EVER!

This year a record of forty-one girls tried out for the girl's 1978-79 softball team. The group went through two weeks of shots, physicals and rigorous practice before "cuts" were announced. However, Mr. Rhoads, the coach, decided he would form two teams- a varsity team and a junior varsity team, so having to cut no one.

The decision in itself was not a bad one- at the time. To run two sports schedules, varsity and j.v., requires a great deal of planning- planning that didn't go into this year's season. With most of the time and energy being devoted to the varsity team, the j.v. would, accordingly, suffer. Resentment of the situation grew among the team members when it was announced that j.v. would only be playing two games during the season.

The team played its first game on March 27, against Northern Lebanon. Mr. Watts had been coaching the team in Mr. Rhoad's place (he went to Alabama with the Exchange club). The final score was 0-15, in favor of Northern Lebanon. The second game was to be played on April 12, against Susquehanna, but was postponed until May 8. Later the game was called off altogether by Susquehanna.

The team turned in their uniforms on Wednesday 25, disappointed and disillusioned. It takes a lot of effort to make a team, but surprisingly little to break one.

The German club opened its busy season with a trip to the Alpenhof restaurant on Oct. 31. This seems to be an annual event for the club and the new members, as well as the old, enjoyed it.

On Nov. 3 the club held its first money-making project-the proverbial bake sale. This got the club off to a good start and led the way for a very successful sub sale. The members rallied to sell almost 1,000 subs. Meat, cheese, onions, tomatoes, and lettuce for the subs had to be sliced by the club. Have you ever tried to slice 3 crates of tomatoes, 2 crates of onions, 46 heads of lettuce and 8 3-foot rolls of lunch meat on one, very small, very slow home slicer? However, in the end all turned out well and the money went to a good cause- on Dec. 16 the club visited New York City.

The weather seemed to fight the club all year long. Due to a hail storm, Christmas caroling was cancelled. All was not lost, as a few members decorated a tree in the library. The Germans challenged the French to a volleyball match. To their disappointment, they lost. A rematch was scheduled, but here again the weather interfered. The date was reset for March 7.

On Feb. 26 the club dined at the Alpenhof. An international dinner was held by the language clubs. Although some of the food wasn't geniune, a good time was had by all. The last major money-making project was a donut sale held on March 23. The money went toward their final trip. All in all, it was a successful year for the club.

LES MISERABLES

The French club's activities were many and varied. A bake sale was the first order of business that the French club had. In October the club held a Halloween party. In January the club held its annual Volleyball game against the German club. The French club broke the tradition and won the game. The Germans called for a rematch. A wager was placed on the game. If the Germans won, the French would serve them at the annual International dinner, and vice-versa. In November they had a sub-sale and a swim-a-thon for money-making projects. In December, a fourth money-making project was to sell candy at a basketball game. To spend some of this money they had been accumulating, they went caroling and had a Christmas party. They also took a trip to Philadelphia to a French museum. In January the club sponsered a Dance. In February the club stepped out in tradition with a Mardi Gras party where they dressed in Costumes. Lastly, a Dinner was scheduled in April. The French club also had a successful season.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON MATINEE

On Sunday May 13, 1979, the talented members of the choral dept., under the direction of Mr. Weaver presented the PHS spring choral concert in the High School Auditorium. The highlights of the show began when J. Beckwith and J. Jordan sang Scarborough Fair accompanied by John Miller: next the Mixed Ensemble sang the Love Theme from "Eyes of Laura Mars, "with Laurelyn Dossett as soloist. Sam Figueroa then played an electrifying piano solo which he had written by himself. The Varsity Choir, Sophomore Girls, Advanced Girls and Boys Chorus each did an outstanding job in their portion of the show. Randall Blauch awarded the Optimist Club Awards to Laurelyn Dossett and Jenny Allmon.

MEN'S Chorus

Shakespeare's TEMPEST

The PHS Players proved their "Will" power once more; this time with Shakespeare's Tempest. The Players' version was as a wild as ever with music added, and magic tricks from our own version of Doug Henning. Needless to say, the characterizations were innovative and exciting. (The Players like to think that The Bard would have enjoyed seeing Miranda as an airhead and Ariel talking like Kermit the Frog.

The setting of the play was a lush tropical island with a magic mountain that revolved.

Inhabiting the island are Prospero, a magician and the right Duke of Milan, played by Jeff Kearney, his dizzy daughter Miranda (Rosanne Romeo), his servant Ariel or Kermit or Jake Ely, his disgustingly deformed slave Caliban (played by Rob Wonderling, who always wanted to be green), and assorted fairies, nymphs, and satyrs. Prospero manages to get his brother, who usurped his dukedom, (Tim Grumbein), the king of Aragon, (Chuck Mock), and his son Ferdinand Jeff Campbell or Herb Logan), and other loonies shipwrecked on the island by causing a "Tempest." Prospero eventually wins back his dukedom, marries his daughter to the King's son, and sets Ariel free, but not before dealing with troublemakers Caliban and his drunken buddies Trinculo, (Tim Frazier) and Stephano (Carlos Torres). The Players in the meantime worked their magic by making Miranda float five ft. above the ground, making Ariel disappear into thin air, and goddesses appear out of thin air.

The costumes were one of the highlights of the show, all designed and made by Aura Hill, Pam Kreiser and Co. Music was provided by Jim Moyer's band, and direction was under Jim Woland. The cast's interpretations, the music, illusions, set and costumes all put together proved that "The Tempest" was magic.

LOS ONCE CABALLEROS

This year's Spanish club was a small one, consisting of 11 members. In October the club, along with the Spanish classes, went to Dutch Wonderland and to the Cinema. For a money-making project they sold taffy to go to Park City and a Spanish restaurant.

EXCHANGE CLUB ROCKS TALKS HAWKS AND EXCHANGES GOODWILL

Student Exchange started the year off on the right foot. At the beginning, the goal was to have an exchange take place with a southern school. The exchange was finally arranged with Tuscaloosa High School, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The next problem was raising enough money to get us there. Many of our projects involved selling lollipops, M & M's, carmel apples, and our traditional rock-a-thon. Our club had a successful year. We showed a lot of enthusiasm and cooperation in working together on our exchange.

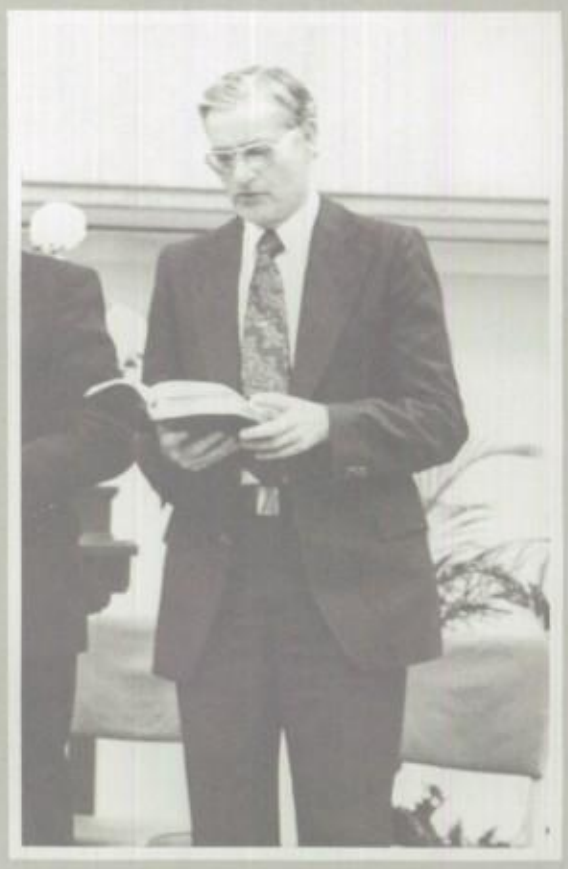
"GLOBETROTTERS"

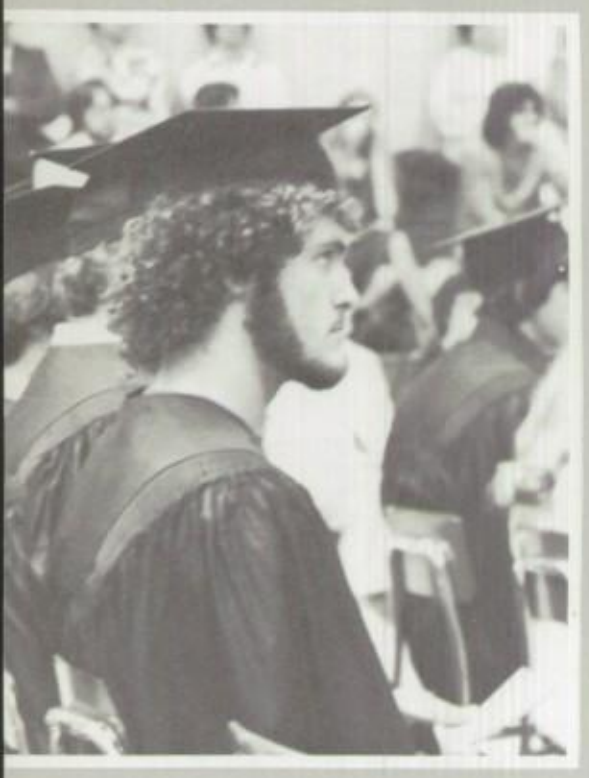
The exchange with Tuscaloosa High School TOOK place from March 24 to the 31. After a nineteen hour drive and a sleepless night at the motel we weren't quite ready for what was in store for us when we arrived. We were hustled off the bus and flung into a week full of fun-filled activities. One of our biggest surprises was attending spring practice and meeting Jeff Rutledge and Coach "Bear" Bryant of the Crimson Tide.

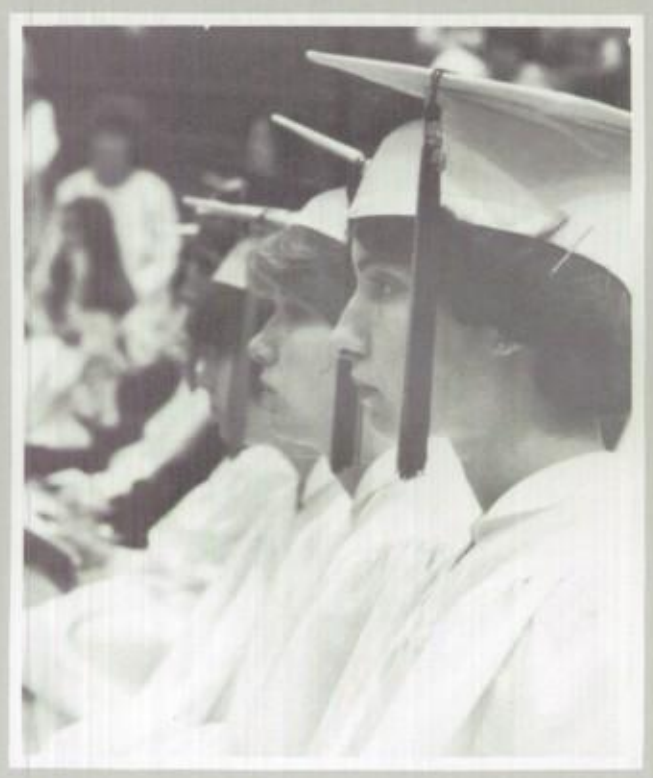
During the week we toured historical landscapes of Alabama, visited Tuscaloosa High School, visted the University of Alabama, went to Holly Springs, and to the Yacht Club.

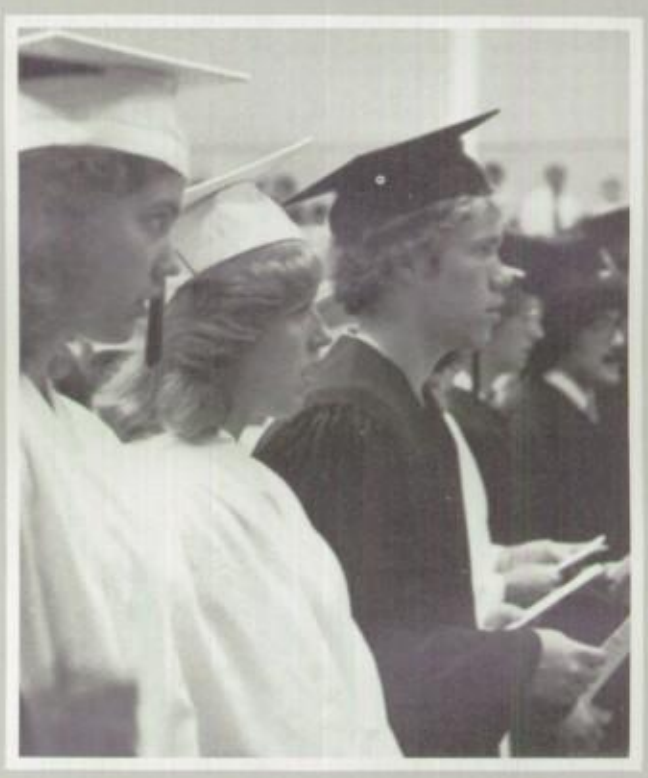
POEM TO THE SENIORS

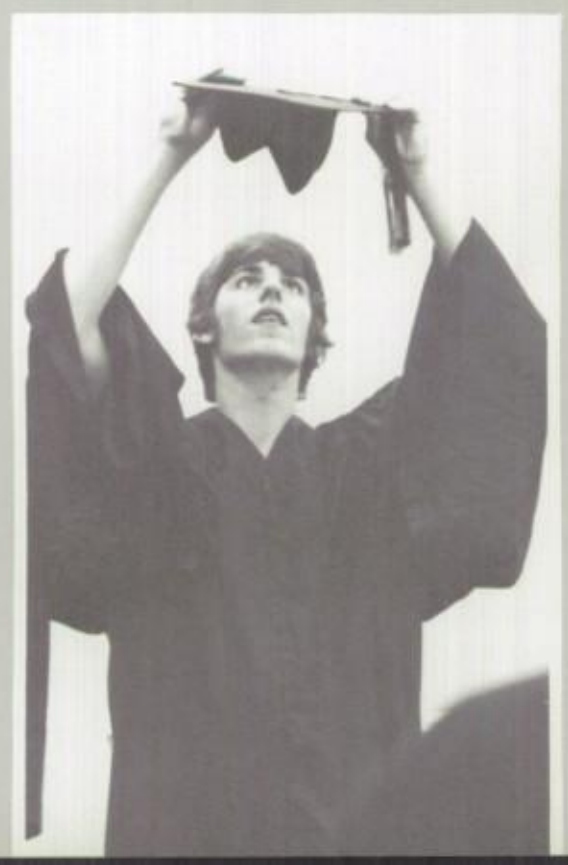
May the word of God direct you
To do the things you should-
To live your life unselfishly
To know and choose the good.
And may the richest blessings,
That heaven can bestow,
Be with you now and always,
No matter where you go.







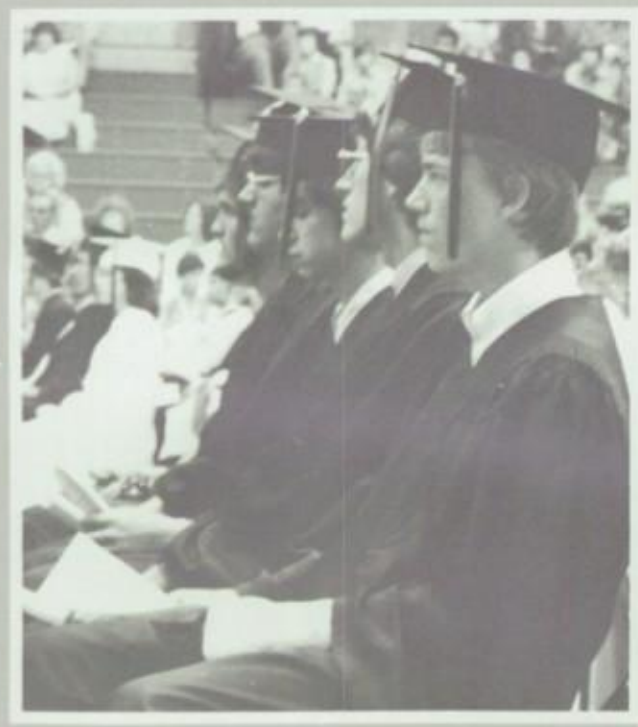




VESPERS SPEAKERS LINKED TO GRADUATES

Three ministers that participated in the vespers program were linked with students graduating. The Rev. Gerhard G. Dietrich, pastor of the Palm Luthern preached the sermon. His son Viking E. Dietrich is in the class. The Rev. Donald O. Collins, pastor of the Campbelltown United Methodist Church, presented the invocation. Rev. and Mrs. Collins are foster parents for Samuel Arturo Figueroa and David Figueroa, Latin American students in their home this year.

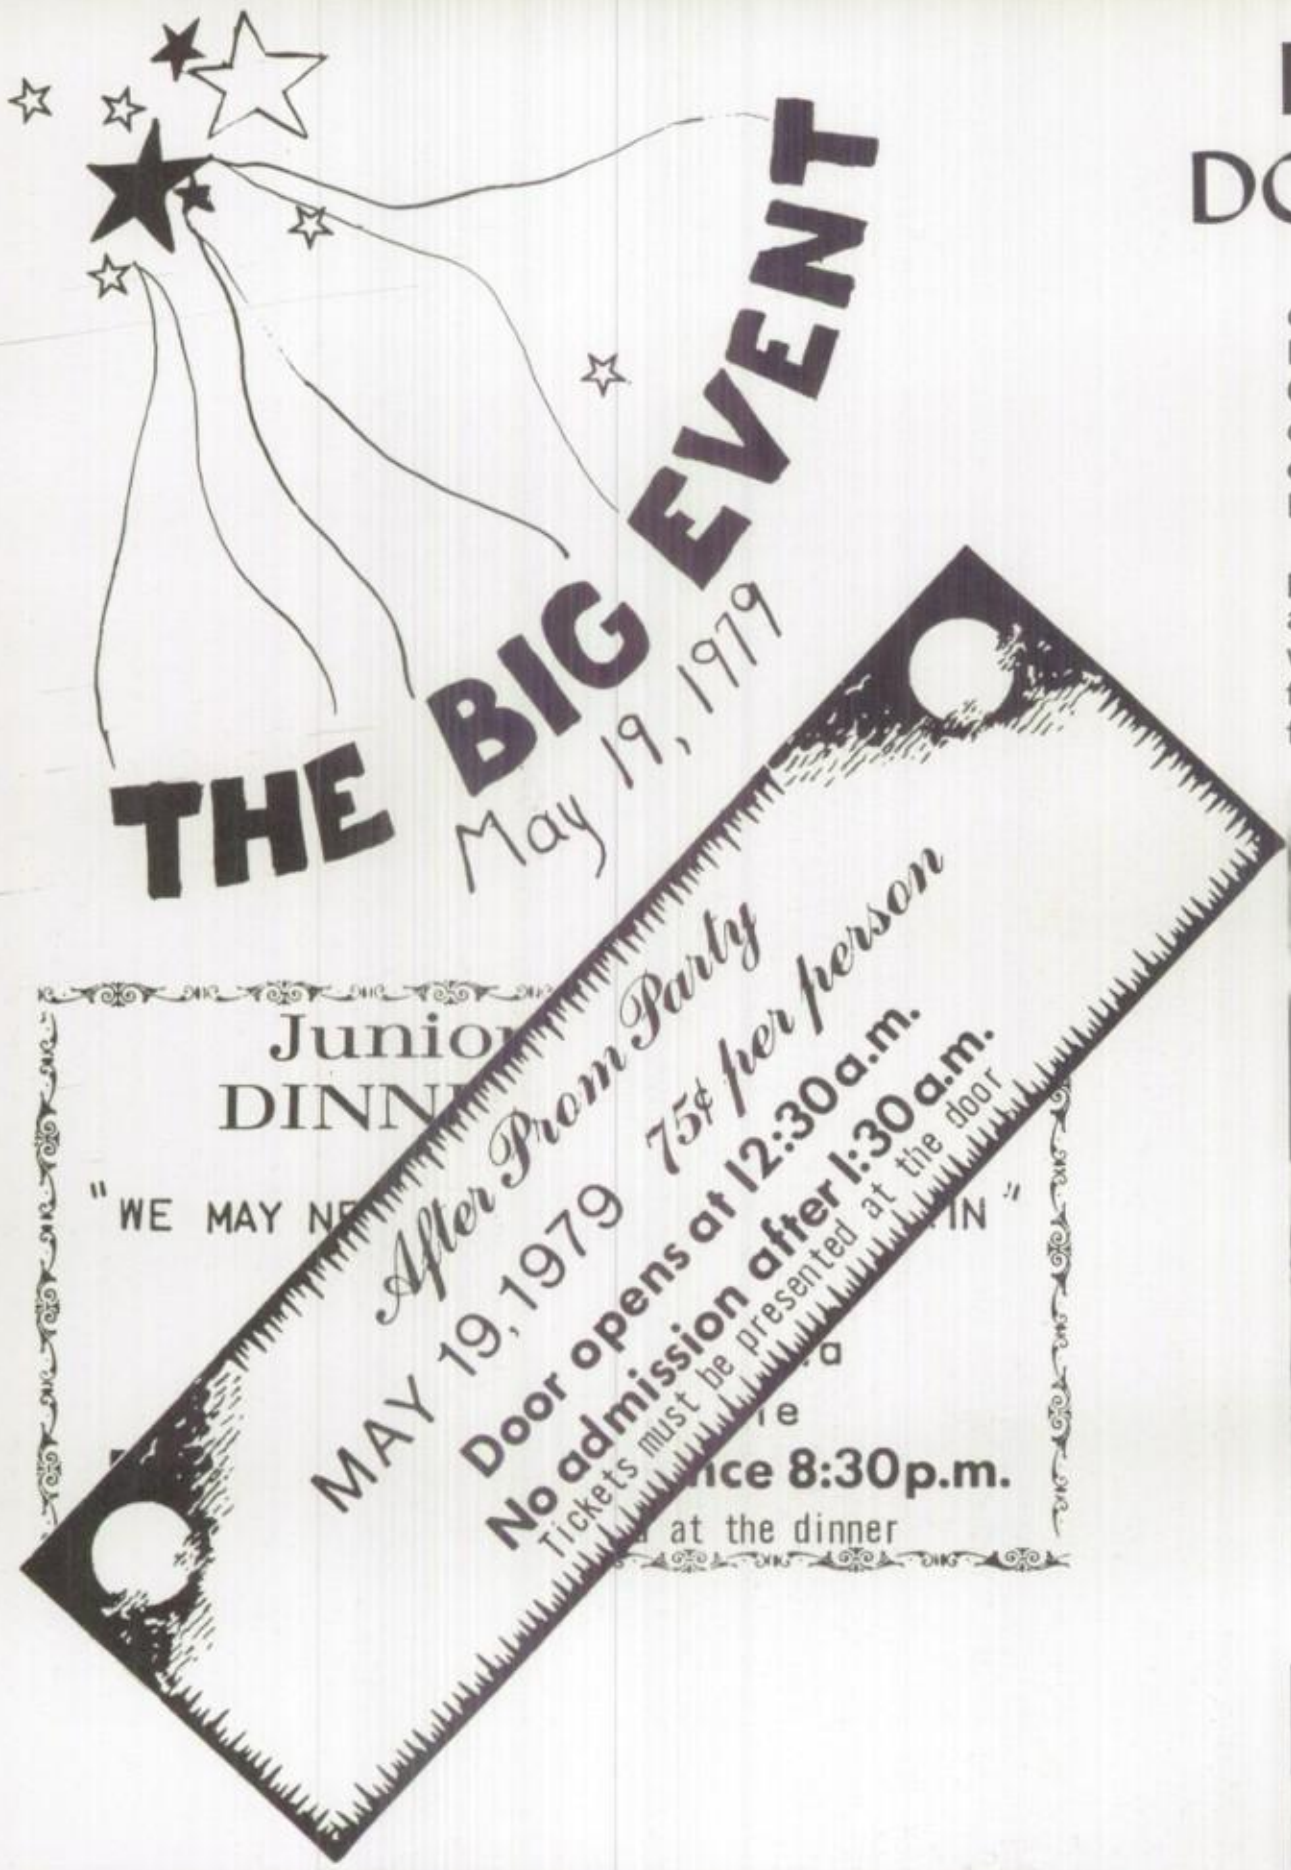
The Rev. Edward C. Charrot, is the father of Kimberly Sue Charrot, a member of the graduating class. He gave the paryer. Rev. Charrot is pastor of the Trinity United Church of Christ.



PROM NIGHT: DOUBLE FEATURE

Prom night's doulbe feature event included the dinner dance held at Parkview Manor in Hershey with music provided by Oasis and an after prom party featuring the classic thriller "Pshcho." The theme of the evening's activities was "We May Never Pass This Way Again."

All experienced a pleasant evening complemented by the fine food and friendly atmosphere. The memories of prom night will linger on even though the music has faded. Those who were there know that this was an event well worth waiting for.



We May Never Pass This Way Again

Life- so they say
Is but a game and they let it slip away
Love- is like the autumn sun
Should be dying but it's only just begun
Like the twilight in the road up ahead
They don't see just where we're goin'
And all the secrets in the universe
Whisper in our ears and all the years will come and go
And take us up-always up

We may never pass this way again

Dreams-so they say
Are for fools and they let them drift away
Peace- like the silent dove
Should be flyin' but it's only just begun
Like Columbus in the olden days
We must gather all our courage
Sail our ship on the open sea
Cast away our fears and all the years will come and go
And take us up-always up

We may never pass this way again

So I wanna laugh while the laughing is easy
I wanna cry if it's worthwhile
I may never pass this way again
That's why I want it with you
'Cause you make me feel like more than a friend
Like I'm the journey and you're the journey's end
I may never pass this way again
That's why I want it with you baby

We may never pass this way again
We may never pass this way again

HALLOWEEN

On October 31, the seniors got their act together and showed spirit as they re-entered their childhood The land of make believe came to life with Deb Dubov's version of Peter Pan and Raggedy Ann & Andy as potrayed by Jenny Eberly and Jody Jennings. Missy Miller, was the original P.H.S. conehead complete with cardboard cone. Jodie Kneasel's pajamas with feet and armload of stuffed animals made her a cute baby while Chuck Mock achieved nearly the same effect with just a diaper and a safety pin.

Teachers, administration and other students enjoyed the act and the break from routine.

NEWS BREAK

Palmyra H. S. has its own share of beauties as shown by our participation in the 1979 Miss Lebanon Valley Pageant. Laurelyn Dossett, Geri Crout and Jenny Allmon ably represented Palmyra on February 17 at Lebanon High School.

On February 25 at the Steelton V.F.W. Tim Zimmerman was honored as the regional winner of the V.F.W. Voice of Democracy contest. Tim delievered his prize winning speech at a dinner in his honor in Steelton.

Freedom Jam, a rock group decended on P.H.S. in an assembly program to cheer the March blahs and later for an evening program. The group, on tour from Florida, was brought in as part of the fund raising program of the Jr. class.

Mrs. "Vilma" Seminara and Mrs. Kathy Keim are two new faces seen in the halls of Palmyra this year. Mrs. Seminara came in January to replace Miss Tricia Weaver in the English Dept. Mrs. Keim arrived earlier in the year replacing Miss Betsy Chadwick.

At the Dutchman Holiday Tournament on December 29. P.H.S. Wrestling team performed like winners taking 7 out of the 12 classes and walking away with the tournament.

Ron Stuart, with a 16-0 lead before winning the 122 lb. class, was unanumously chosen as the tourney's outstanding wrestler.

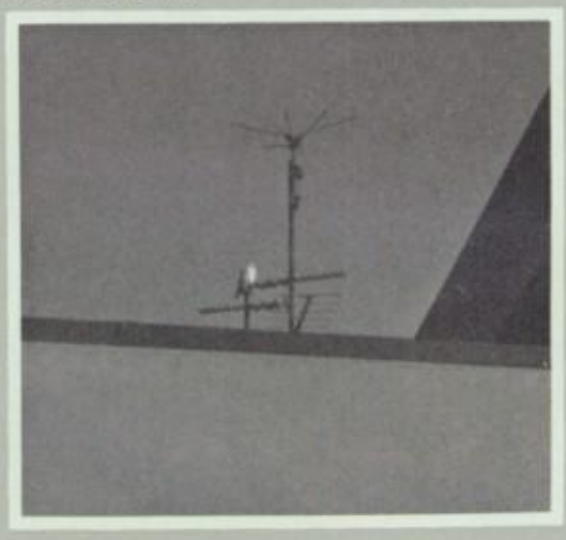
Following his admirable performance at this tournament Ron went on to represent P.H.S. at states where he was successful in his first confrontation.

SLAVE DAY

The Drama Club's 2nd annual Slave Day assembly again took the student population by storm. Hosted by Palmyra's own Sat. Nite Live pair-Chuck, Steve Martin, Mock and Rosanna Danna Romeo, it was a wild and crazy time.

Slaves went for prices from $12 to an all time high of $65, paid for the Blushing Mike Casto. His owners for the day were a group of Casto groupies.

Tasks performed by slaves ran the gamut from foot races in the hall, to modeling Mr. Watts' coat to Rob Wonderling singing (?) the Star Spangled Banner before a populated auditorium.



The little white spot shown on this picture is not a mistake. It really is a big, white snowy owl, seen hanging around on the school's antennae. This owl seemed to cause a few disruptions as students wanted to get out of class to view the owl.

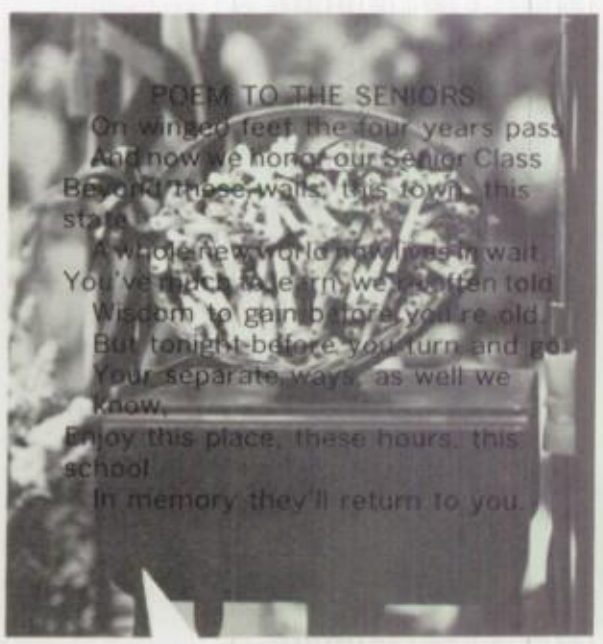
Homecoming time does not only bring around preparations for the dance but also the building of the class float. This year there was much enthusiasm shown when it came time to build a float for the theme "Reminiscing". The first place float was the Sophomores, as they portrayed the olden days of going to school.

GRADUTION

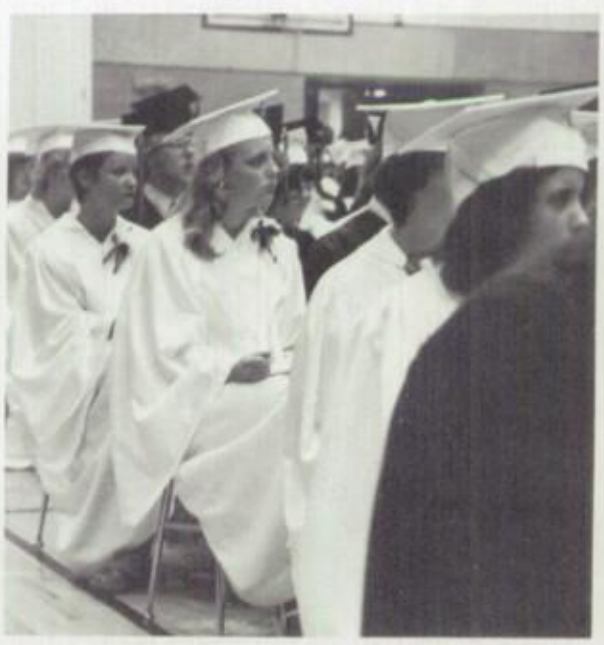
They said there was a 70% chance of precipitation. All 70% of it fell at 5:00 p.m. leaving a sultry steaming aftermath. Accordingly the commencement ceremonies were moved into a very humid, sticky gymnasium.

To the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" the graduates filed in and were welcomed by President, Joam Bauman who noted that this day they were taking the first steps toward independence and self-sufficiency.

After addresses given by Carlos Torres and Mr. William V. Hankins, diplomas were presented by School Board President Mr. John Engle.



POEM TO THE SENIORS
On winged feet the four years pass
And now we honor our Senior Class
Beyond these walls, this town, this state
A whole new world now lies in wait
You've much to learn, we've often told
Wisdom to gain before you're old
But tonight before you turn and go
Your separate ways, as well we know,
Enjoy this place, these hours, this school
In memory they'll return to you



Since tradition urges that graduation speakers give advice that all graduates listen to and promptly forget and that lulls everyone else in the audience into a gentle sleep, Mr. Hankins did his best to uphold tradition.

After a talk with a hypothetical exstudent named Demster, regarding what todays educational system has been useful in contributing to a good life he concluded that education must so install concepts that they become second nature. As Dempster stated, "Learning is all common sense."

In conclusion he noted that as time passes you will forget the knowledge acquired in high school. "But," he stated, "it's not the knowledge that's important but the result from it."

"We made it," Carlos Torres noted in the opening of his commencement address. High School wasn't that hard but the real test is yet to come.

One of the keys to a successful life is to cultivate and cherish friends, Carlos indicated. He urged his fellow graduates to treat all people as individuals and not to get swept into the prejudices so prevalent today.

"Don't make fun of any one," he cautioned. "If you do, you may find later the you've been making fun of a very nice person."

He summed up his ideas by quoting The Golden Rule as a very good axiom by which to live.

Our Assembly

U-Boat Sale

ODE TO A YEARBOOK

Contrary to popular belief, the yearbook staff does not always work! We are human too. We have sub sales just like any other respectable club in this school. We have assemblies, just like any other . . . well . . . uh . . . so we have assemblies, big deal! We deserve them anyway. I mean, we work year round trying to put out a decent yearbook so you have something to show your children and grandchildren. You know, without us, what would you do when your grandchildren come to visit? You'd probably end up sitting around watching Mork and Mindy re-runs (for those of you who can't figure that one out, Mork and Mindy will be in syndication by that time.)

For those sophomores and juniors who bought this yearbook and, for some strange reason didn't like it, you can always wait until next year and hope we live up to your standards. But you seniors, well, you're stuck with this one but before you pass judgement on this book or hang our editor in effigy, you should take time out to appreciate the time and effort that went into this yearbook. The life of a yearbook staff person is not all glamour.

The whole yearbook making process starts the year before. You have to fill out an application and hand it in to Mrs. Hill, then if she likes you, she'll think about putting you on the staff. The next is the yearbook seminar at LVC (you have to get out of a WHOLE DAY of school for the seminar, which deprives you of a days worth of education). For the entire schoolyear you are assigned layouts for various school events (sports, senior, plays, etc.). Some of you don't realize what you have to do to make a layout, first of all you need pictures (lots of them) then you have to arrange them according to the rules you learned at the L.V.C. Seminar. Copy is also essential for a layout (copy is the written portion of the layout). Each layout reflects the individual who conceived it (for example: this layout reflects a well adjusted, intelligent, good looking, charming person). So, if you are a little bewildered, confused or maybe dazed (or in awe), just think this is one book you will never throw away. Its one of those books you put in the reference section of your shelf or locked away in a safety deposit box. It's a book that will be read for years to come. It's a book of immeasurable value. It's a book that reflects on our values trends and personalities. It's a book that reveals how "innocent and naive" we really were. It's just one of those books that you never forget (something like Silar Mariner). But most important of all it is a book that a group of dedicated imaginative people put together (especially this layout) just so you have "a little high school" the rest of your life.

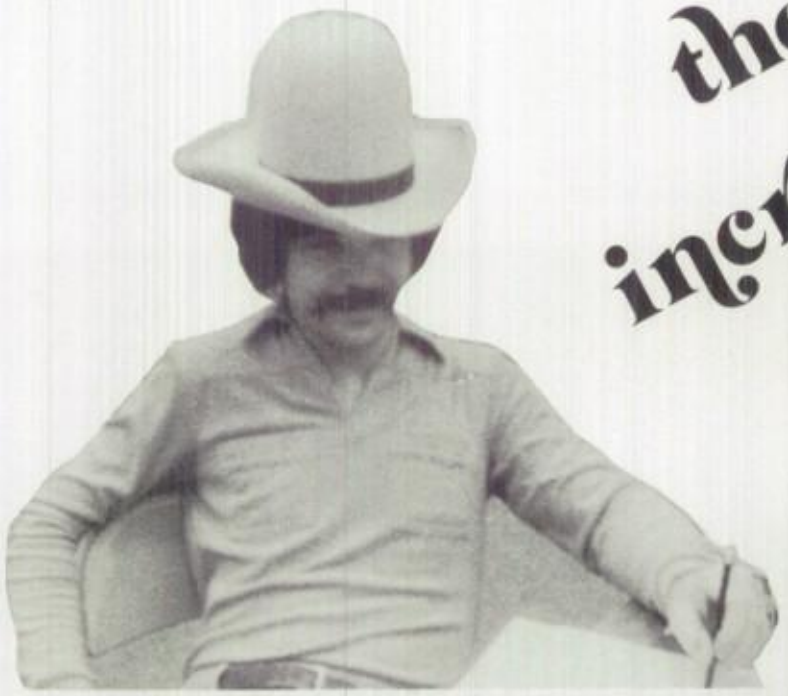
WORD FROM THE YEARBOOK

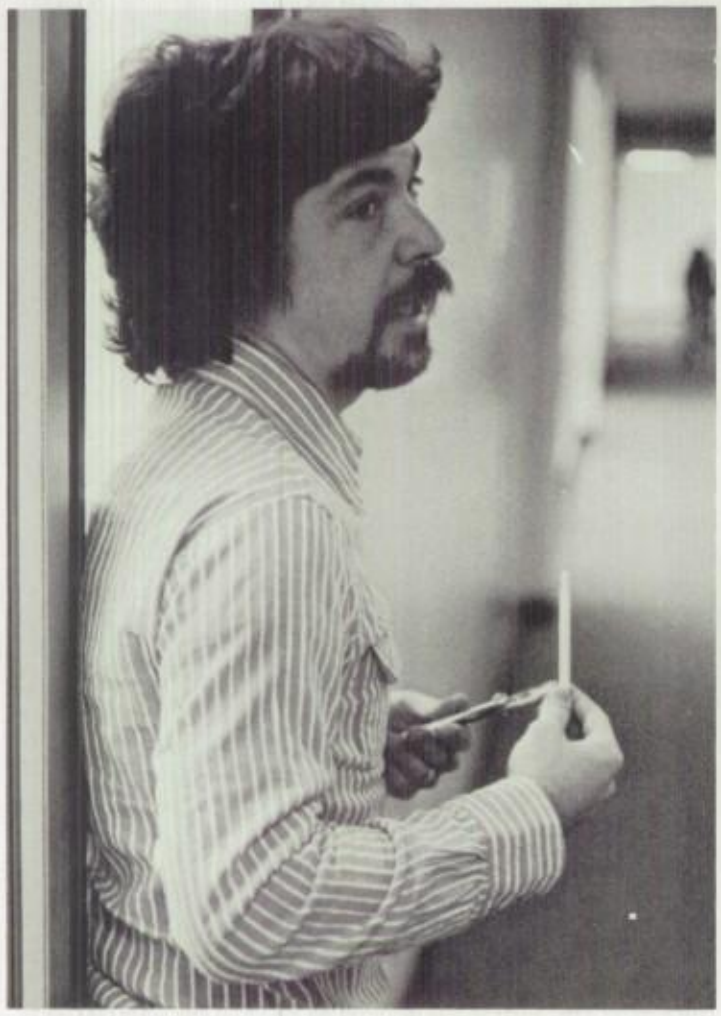
Hi,

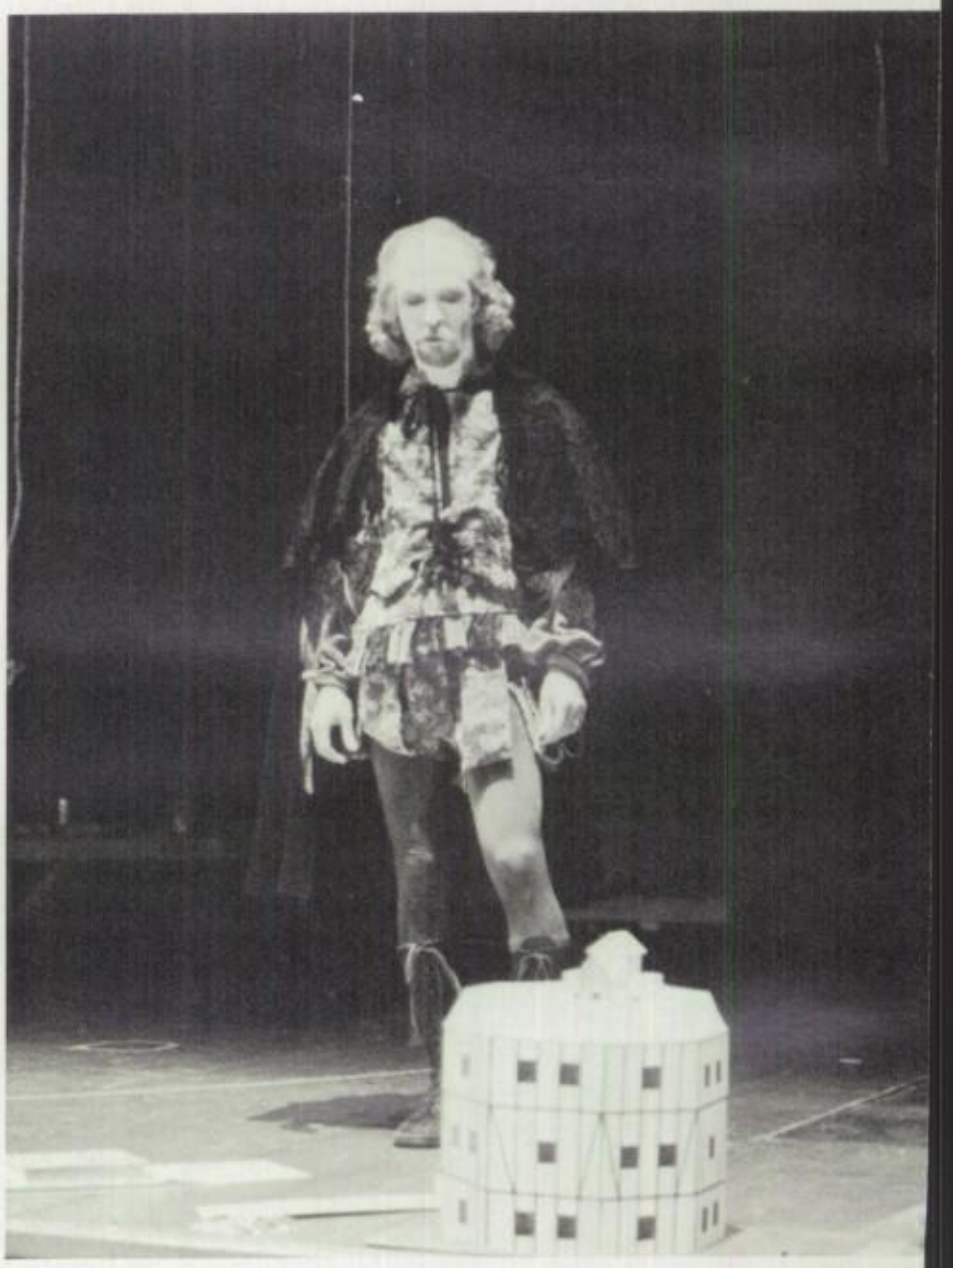
I hope you enjoy me. I'm trying real hard to try and please you. But if you feel I cheated you out of your money, I'm sorry. You see, I've got a few problems of my own. The people who put me together are a bunch of incompetent punks. They couldn't even put together a decent assembly, or organize a sub sale to help pay for me and boost my sales. My cover will probably fall off in a few years. My pages will turn yellow with age. You'll probably deface the administration (or even worse you might tear out that section) I'll probably remind you of your growing pains, embarassing moments, and your facial condition. My pictures will probably make you look like Chip and Ernie from My Three Sons. You'll probably store me in some attic and won't read me unless your wife or husband wants to see how stupid you really looked. Your kids will probably mark me up with 68 different crayon colors. Your grandchildren will probably lose their respect for you after they see you in me. I'm sorry I've depressed you but I just had to get a few things off my . . . cover. Well, you've got a lot more pictures to look at so don't just sit there staring at this letter.

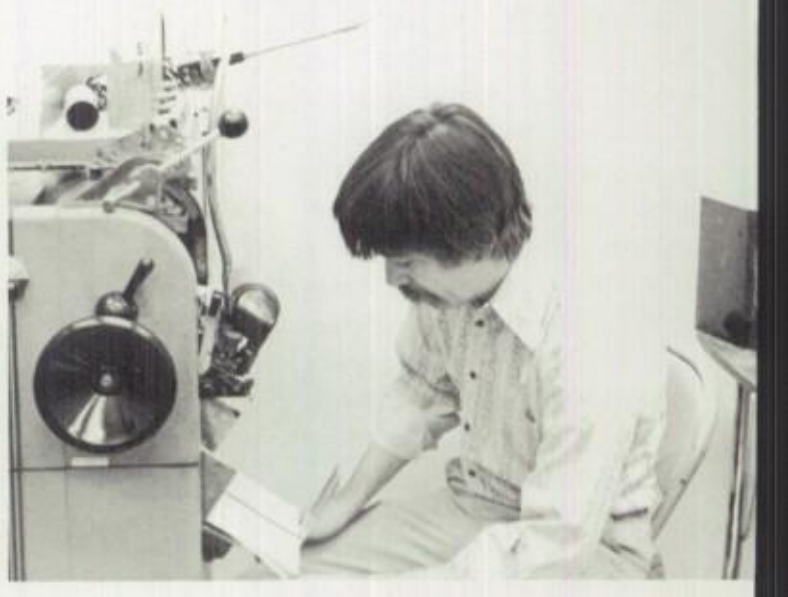
Sincerely your,
Your Yearbook

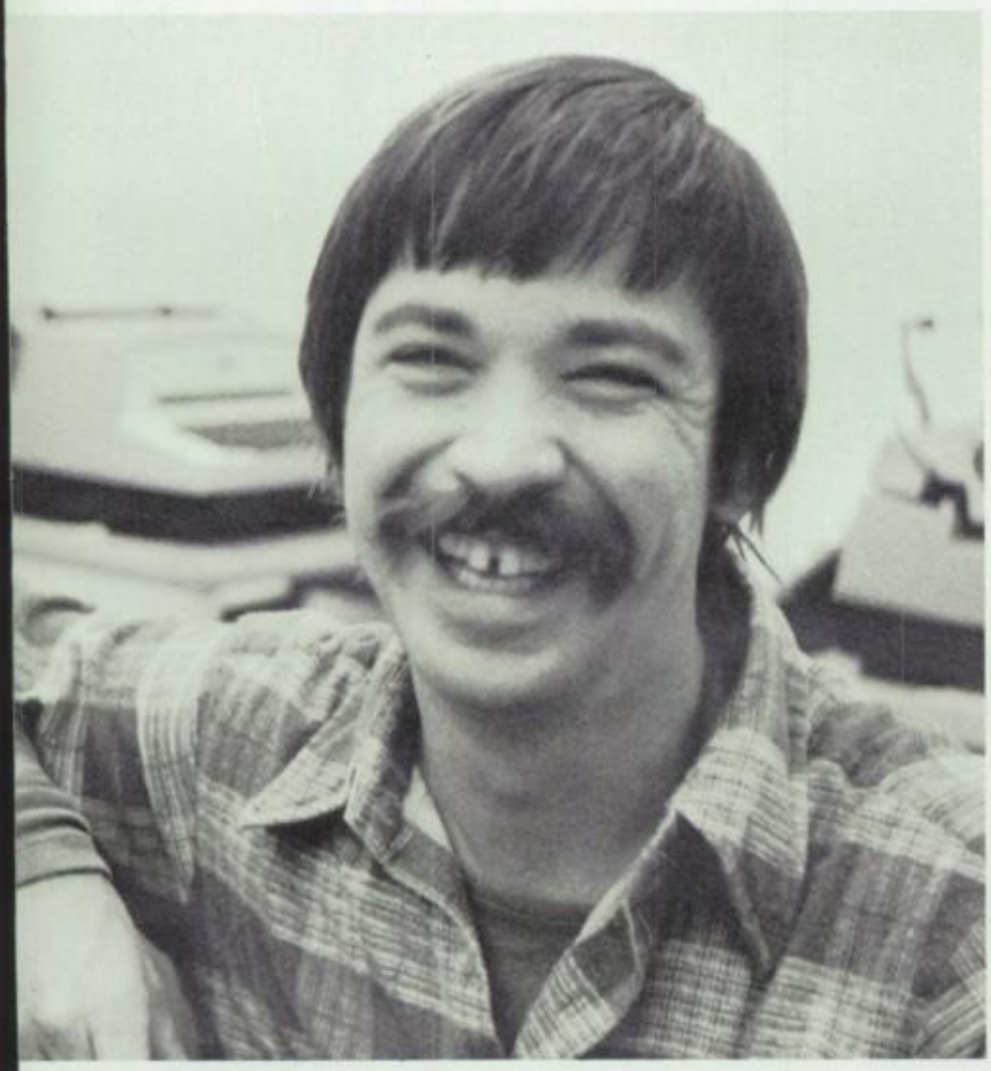
the incredible hunk











In the beginning, that horrible year of transitions, fears and sophomoric humor, you were there scaring the hell out of us. Scaring us, yet demanding respect in such a way, we could not really hate you, even with our fear.

We were the starvlings, hungering for recognition, foundering in a world so unusual to us, so different from anything we had ever encountered before, but you were there. Swearing at us when things were wrong, screaming still if things were almost right, demanding perfection.

It was admirable; your talent, your creativity, your charismatic qualities. But we admired you from afar, still afraid to reach for your friendship.

The seniors understood you, or claimed to. Yet in private conversation they, too, voiced fear and that unexplainable feeling of accomplishment when one received praise from you for a job well done. They called you by initials. With us it was always "Mr.".

We were jealous of them, if only for that year, for when graduation became a reality, they became a part of a memory, a good one; of wine-strong remarks, before show jitters and opening night roses.

Our junior year was much the same. The same fears, anxieties, and jealousies were there, and you were there, too. It passed quickly, merely a stopover from sophomore to senior, our senior year; that ecstatic period of 180 school days leading to final freedom.

Suddenly, "senior" was a reality and you were part of it, respected, feared, sometimes we even loved you. And through all of it, you made us grow up into "adults" (whatever that means), and we learned from you in many ways, and thank you for it.

But, not surprisingly, we found that as seniors, we still did not understand you, and sometime during that wonderfully hectic year, we came close to the awesome realization that we never would.

Thanks a lot, J. W., we will not forget you . . .

SENIORS BEQUEATH

Tawni Hendricks leaves her height to Mr. Hromco, her horse hips to Bob Phillips, Kerry Daubert, and Eric Sechrist, and her trig. knowledge to Jeff Brownsweiger.

Skosh Jenckes leaves her charm and personality to Mr. Priebe, her Mickey Mouse costume to Rob Wonderling, her hair to Mr. Miller, her athletic ability to Greg Holsinger, and her shinsplints to Kirk Hughes.

Tammie Garrison leaves her band uniform to Lori Dows.

Thomas Becker leaves another year with Coach Vallen and his "Sports Shorts" to Kevin Campbell.

Dawn Phillips leaves all her Phillips' shorthand methods to all up and coming Shorthand students.

Charles Mock leaves his acting ability to all uprising actors at PHS, his trumpet playing ability to Herb Logan, his solos to Joe Daub, and his hair to Mr. Trauger.

Debbie Meola leaves her wit, charm, books, commons, singing voice to Janaye LaClair, Miss Noll, Mrs. Kline, and Brian Wolf, respectively.

Julie Dixon leaves her space goggles and six extra inches to Brian Wolf, her guitar to Burt Hunt, and her car to all the masochistic motorheads out there.

Gay Umberger leaves a helluva lot of patience, and her "Ellen Gardner abilities" to anyone foolish enough to take business courses.

Jake Ely leaves a six-week crash course in journalism to the NEWTIMES staff.

Judy Deichert leaves all her belongings, and Mrs. Jones' first period' self-directed reading class to Jayne Deichert.

Tim Eckert leaves his favorite conehead to Tim Shuey, Bob Krotec, and the rest of the basketball team.

Tammy Fritz leaves her finger-twiddling ability to Lori Storm.

Karen Lynch leaves her good nature to Denise McKee so that she'll have a happy senior year.

Chris Geiger leaves his perfect macho image to Brian Wolf.

Lori Gibson leaves all her fun times in shorthand and typing to anyone who can handle it - GOOD LUCK!

Barb Folger leaves her extraordinary personality and ability to get the girls in a rowdy mood at the wrong time to Mrs. Keim.

Joe Daubert leaves the back row of the parking lot to any motorhead that has a car that will turn thirteen seconds in the ¼ mile.

Dawn Ferguson leaves her ability to keep sarcastic remarks to a minimum to Deb Shearer, and the ability to P.P. with everybody throughout the senior year to Robyn Eckert.

Lori Behrendt leaves all her hook days to Debbie Bates.

Shirley Ginder leaves her impeachment of Jimmy Carter from P. Baker (and the P. doesn't stand for Philip) to Mindy and Nancy for history next year.

Karen Petrofes leaves a Webster's dictionary to Mr. K. Wilson, her ability to stay in step in marching band to Terri Petrofes, and the boys dressing room sink and a can of kitty litter to Mr. Woland and Tim Frazier.

Rod Mason leaves his terrific ability to miss a fly ball to Brent Kaufman.

Manual Lorenz leaves all the semantical connotations and abstract abstractions to Mr. VanTassel.

Jolene Leeper leaves all her algebra homework to Brian Cassel.

Stacie Umberger and Cindy Shoup leave their ability to remain unemotional to next year's cheering squad.

Frank Souder leaves absolutely nothing to nobody because nobody gave him a damn thing.

Sam Figueroa leaves his teaching ability to Fred Priebe.

Jodie Kneasel and Jenny Eberly leave their combined bustlines to whoever can find them.

Bob Dudginski leaves his long legs to Jay Ziegler.

Kiziah Bringman leaves her name to all those who don't know how to pronounce it.

Laurelyn Dossett leaves a full year's subscription to "Disgustingly Obnoxious Magazine" and an honorable mention to the Nat'l Organization to Bob Dudginski.

Steve Raynes leaves any leadership qualities he may have to the band front because they need it.

Scott Rmsay leaves all of his unfinished English work that he needed to graduate to Mrs. Jones.

Elaine Shenk leaves her skininess to Mrs. Steinberg.

Bob Rausch leaves nothing of any value.

David Rhine leaves all his science fiction material and Star Wars to Mr. Priebe.

Carlos Torres leaves his singing ability to Mike Sternberger and his car stereo to Bob Bomgardner for any other dances that he may do.

Ed Cardimona leaves "Randy Cardinona" to Mrs. Steinberg.

Lori Suchy leaves all her Betty Crocker and Julia Child cookbooks to the cafeteria ladies.

Kelly Bain leaves her stretch balloons and spare time to Joanne Jordan.

Jeff Campbell leaves Mr. VanTassel to whoever will take him and his vast supply of "gator" shirts to Mr. Baile.

Peg Becker leaves her collection of poems and locker decorations to Scott Slade.

Wendy Barnes leaves her Cloverdale and Milton Hershey teeshirts to Wendy Charrot.

Faydean May leaves 250 million golden copies of the Hallelujah Chorus for field drills and choral concerts to Mr. Weaver.

Scott Shearer leaves his grave walking ability and maseleum knocking over to Kelly Eshelman.

Ruth Knight leaves her "terrific" grades in Mr. Boyer's fifth period algebra class to anyone who is stupid enough to take them.

Tim Frazier leaves a golden coffee can with a year's supply of catty litter to Karen Petrofes.

Richard Blauch leaves his expert cornet skills to Tom Hoffman and his pair of dice that never come up doubles to Mr. Geib.

Brenta Betz leaves her backlogging and downstroking shorthand techniques to Carrie Baum.

Sandy Barto leaves her shampoo for swimming class to Leesa Quarry so that she won't have to borrow it from someone else.

Rochelle Ginder leaves her hearty laugh and good jokes to use on all the teachers in revenge to Tammy Speicher.

Wendy Betz leaves her baritone and wobbley stand to any poor soul who gets it.

WHAT DOES A P.H.S. GRADUATE WEAR?

Prom gowns, football helmets, grease paint, golf shoes, thinking caps, swim suits, Halloween costumes, track shoes, TMI shirts, candies, blue jeans, baseball caps-In short-they are nultifaceted, multitalented and multifaced. They have faced challenges, victories, defeats, pain and joy with equal verb, zest and confidence. They have made their mark on P.H.S. and now go on to make their mark on the world.
